General
Will Canvas work on my mobile phone?

Canvas is built on open web standards and uses minimal instances of Flash, so most features are supported on mobile devices. With the growing use of mobile devices, instructors should build their courses with best practices for mobile in mind.

Mobile Browsers

You can access Canvas through mobile browsers on the following supported platforms: iPhone/iPod Touch, Android, WebOS, Blackberry, and Windows Phone.

Mobile Applications

We are actively improving our native mobile applications to support as many Canvas features as possible. Instructure currently has two native mobile phone applications free for download:

- Canvas by Instructure—for iOS6+ and Android devices
- Canvas for iOS—for iOS 5 devices (only supported for a limited time; view the details)

Learn more about these apps in the Canvas guides:

- Canvas Mobile Phone Guide for Students, Instructors, and Admin
How do I find my institution's URL to access the Canvas app on my phone?

Every institution uses a specific URL to access Canvas. This URL is required to access Canvas mobile apps. Institutions follow a URL structure of [your institution name].instructure.com or canvas.[your institution name].edu.

Note: If you are using Canvas Network, use learn.canvas.net as your Canvas URL. If you are using Free-For-Teachers (FFT) use canvas.instructure.com as your Canvas URL.

Direct Access to Canvas URL

Some institutions will use a direct link to their instance of Canvas, which makes the Canvas URL easy to find. In most cases you can hover over the Canvas link and view the URL, or you can click the link to be taken directly to the page.
Canvas URLs

Write down the URL that shows at the top of the page. This is your Canvas URL that will you use for Canvas mobile apps.
Redirect to Canvas URL

Some institutions may choose to have another domain redirect the Canvas URL, especially if the institution has an existing portal for student courses. You may have to sign into your institution’s internal system before accessing Canvas.

As an example, if students hovers over and clicks the Canvas Login link at Utah State University, they'll be directed to online.usu.edu, which is the university's general online course landing page.

Log into Canvas
Students will log into Canvas with their student number and password.

View Canvas and URL

!Canvas URL

Students will be redirected to the dashboard for the university’s instance of Canvas. The Canvas URL will display in the address bar.

Open Mobile App

!Canvas Mobile App
Once you have located your Canvas URL, open your Canvas app. Tap the Get Started button.

Enter Canvas URL

Enter the URL you use for Canvas:

canvas.instructure.com

Example: myschool.instructure.com or canvas.myschool.edu

Connect

The second screen will ask for the URL you use for Canvas. Every institution has a unique Canvas URL that you need to type into the URL field. Institutions follow a URL structure of [your institution name].instructure.com or canvas.[your institution name].edu.

Note: If you are using Canvas Network, use learn.canvas.net as your Canvas URL. If you are using Free-For-Teachers (FFT) use canvas.instructure.com as your Canvas URL.

What do text message notifications look like on my Android phone?

You can customize your Profile Notification Preferences to include text messages on your Android phone. Notifications can be sent instantly, daily, or weekly.

Receive Text Message

Text messages appear from notifications@instructure.com and contain at least one text per notification.
View Instant Notification

Instant notifications includes the Subject (Canvas Alert) [1], as well as the notification message [2].

In this example, there is one text alert for a grade change and another alert about being added to a group within a course.
View Daily or Weekly Notification

When notifications are sent on a daily or weekly basis, the message field [1] will indicate the total number of notifications you have received, but it will not specify what they are. Visit the URL of your institution [2] to view more details.
How do I access Canvas using a browser on my Android phone?

You can access Canvas using the browser on your mobile phone.

Note: Due to the limited viewing size, we recommend using the Canvas app instead.

Open Mobile Browser

Open your mobile browser.

Enter Canvas URL

Enter your institution's Canvas URL in the URL field.
Open Using Internet

If a pop-up appears asking you whether you want to open Canvas using the Canvas app or the Internet, tap the Internet icon.

What do text message notifications look like on my iPhone?

You can customize your Profile Notification Preferences to include text messages on your iPhone. Notifications can be sent instantly, daily, or weekly.

Receive Text Message

Text messages appear as area code ending in 10 (such as 210 or 410) and contain at least one text per notification.
View Instant Notification

Notification headings identify the sender [1], either from Instructure Canvas or the name of one of your courses, the type of message notification [2], and the URL of your institution where you can view more details about the message.

In this example, the text alert is a notification that the student's instructor has left a comment on a quiz.
View Daily or Weekly Notification

When notifications are sent on a daily or weekly basis, the message field [1] will indicate the total number of notifications you have received, but it will not specify what they are. Visit the URL of your institution [2] to view more details.

Getting to Know You

Emily Boone
Jul 12, 2013, 16:53

My name is Emily and I'm excited to be in this class. I'm studying writing. I am from California (Bay area).

1. I love going to Disneyland.
2. I have 15 nieces and 10 nephews.
3. My favorite color is black.

Max Johnson
Jul 12, 2013

I don't know anyone whose favorite color is black. But it is a very classy color.
I don't think you have that many nieces and nephews unless someone had quadruplets. But if they did that would be cool.

Color can say a lot about you. What is your favorite? Then look up your favorite color on the Internet. There are lots of color theory sites, such as http://www.colormatters.com/color-symbolism/the-meanings-of-colors.

What is Dropbox?
Dropbox is the service that lets you sync all your photos, docs and videos anywhere. Any file you save (or drag and drop) automatically comes to all your computers, phones and iPods. When you upload a new file, Dropbox can automatically share it with your friends. It’s fast and free, and keeps your files an arm’s length away, no matter what computer you’re on.

The Dropbox Folder
When you install Dropbox on your computer, a Dropbox folder is created in your home directory. Any files you upload to this Dropbox folder will be automatically backed up and shared with your friends. If you delete a file from the Dropbox folder, it will also be deleted from your computer. To access your Dropbox folder, simply open Finder and navigate to /Users/username/Document/.
