CHRISTMAS GIFTS FREE FROM CARTHAGE MERCHANTS

It's going to be Merry Christmas, indeed, to a large number of the citizens of Carthage, if the plan announced in this issue is carried out.

Not only does this plan create a potential source of Christmas gifts for those on the cash-strapped budget, but it may also enable us to find a way to give a little more than we otherwise would.

The plan is to have merchants of the town work to provide gifts for children whose parents are unable to purchase them.

The plan works as follows:

HOW THE PLAN WORKS:
Throughout each issue of the Watchman, there will be a list of participating merchants. These merchants will be asked to provide gifts of various sizes, ranging from small toys to larger items.

These gifts will then be given to children whose parents have applied to the program for assistance.

In order to participate, your gift must have a value of at least $500.

If you would like to participate, please contact your local merchant association for more information.
