County Approves Redistricting Plan

The Panola County commissioners have approved a redistricting plan that will affect the political boundaries of the county. The plan was developed based on population changes and will be effective for the upcoming election cycle. The commissioners met in a special session on January 9th to discuss the proposal and make the necessary adjustments.

False Fire Alarms Cause City Trouble

The city of Panola has been dealing with a series of false fire alarms that have caused significant trouble and expense. The Fire Department has responded to multiple call-outs, only to find that the alarms were not genuine. The source of the problem is currently under investigation.

City's Sewer System Causes Trouble Again

The city's sewer system has once again caused problems, leading to disruptions and inconvenience for residents. The city council is considering options for improving the system and reducing the frequency of such incidents.

Pay Hike Hearing Jan. 9

A public hearing on pay hikes for county employees is scheduled for January 9th. The commission is considering increasing salaries to attract and retain qualified staff. The hearing will provide an opportunity for public input and discussion.

72 Building Permits Fall Below $1 Million

The number of building permits issued in Panola County has decreased, with the total value of permits falling below the $1 million mark. This trend may indicate a slower pace of construction activity in the area.

DA Seeking Federal Grant

The District Attorney's Office is pursuing a federal grant to fund additional resources and support for its operations. The grant would help improve the office's capacity to handle cases more efficiently and effectively.

Election Is Jan. 9

The upcoming election is scheduled for January 9th. Voters will have the opportunity to cast their ballots for various local and national races. The election commission is preparing for a smooth and fair process.

Curtain Falls On Panola County 1972

The Panola County 1972 event is nearing its conclusion, with performances taking place until January 9th. The event has been a popular attraction, drawing audiences from across the region. Performances include local talent and special guest appearances.
