Measure Costs

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics today released its latest report on the cost of living. The report shows that the cost of living has increased by 3.2 percent since last year. This is the highest increase in the past five years.

Realism On Food Cuts

The recent rise in food prices has caused many people to re-examine their eating habits. Many are choosing to cut back on their food budgets by eating at home more often and buying cheaper cuts of meat.

Out Of The Past

The past was a time of simpler times. People had to work harder to make ends meet, but they also had more time to enjoy the simple pleasures of life.

Deadly Pattern

The deadly pattern of inflation is continuing to worsen. Prices are rising at an alarming rate, and the only way to stop it is to cut back on spending.
