CISD Hires Architect

Carthage Independent School District announced last Tuesday that Dr. John W. Greaves had been hired as the district's new architect.

Greaves, who has been with the district for the past year, will assume his new duties on July 1. He replaces Dr. John W. Greaves, who has been serving as the district's architect since 1969.

Greaves has been with the district for the past year, and has been responsible for the design and construction of several major projects, including the new Carthage High School and the new Carthage Junior High School.

Greaves has a degree in architecture from the University of Texas at Austin, and has worked for several firms in the Dallas area before joining the district.

In making the announcement, Dr. John W. Greaves said, "We are very pleased to have Dr. John W. Greaves join our staff. He brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the architect's office, and we are confident that he will play an important role in the continuing development of our schools."

MIA's Still Missing

The latest report on the search for Malaysia Airlines Flight MH370 is grim. The plane disappeared on March 8, 2014, with 239 people on board. Despite extensive search efforts, including a massive international response from 20 nations, the aircraft has not been found. The fate of the passengers and crew remains unknown. The investigation continues, and the families of those lost are still waiting for answers. This tragedy highlights the importance of better planning and preparedness in the event of a disaster. It is a stark reminder of the fragility of life and the need for constant vigilance in the face of potential hazards. The search efforts also underscore the need for improved communication and coordination among international partners. The world must learn from this experience and work to prevent such tragedies in the future. In the meantime, the families of the missing continue to endure immense suffering and deserve our continued support and compassion. This tragedy reminds us of the need for sustained efforts to find answers and bring closure to those affected.

THE WEEK'S Sunday School Lesson

God And Man In Covenant

Background: The covenant is one of the great themes of the Bible. It is an agreement between two parties, often God and a nation or a person. In the Bible, covenants are often sealed with symbolic acts, such as the covenant with Abraham, where God promised to give him a land and descendants. The covenant with Moses and the Israelites was sealed with the giving of the Law on Mount Sinai. The covenant with the early Christians was sealed with the blood of Jesus. These covenants were not just promises but also covenants of protection and provision.

Devotional: The covenant is a reminder of God's faithfulness. It is a promise that God will be with us no matter what. It is a reminder that we can trust in God, even when things are difficult. It is a reminder that God is with us, even when we feel alone.

RUMOR:

All property owners in the county who are 65 or older will benefit if the homestead tax exemption is increased to $5,000.

FACT:

Of the total 1,241 elderly residents who were eligible for a homestead exemption last year, 93% paid no tax at all and would realize no additional benefit.

TO THE PEOPLE OF PANOLA COUNTY:

We recognize that our Senior Citizens are in need of some tax relief.

We provide such relief now, to avert the tax relief, which has been paid by the elderly because of a 2% increase in property taxes.

The total value of the above mentioned homestead tax exemption for our Senior Citizens who have applied is over twelve million dollars.

The school board decided to provide these Senior Citizens amounts to over $46,000.

The savings of over $46,000 is passed on to the tax paying citizens of this County who do not qualify for the homestead tax exemption, as our County is in the highest property tax category.

If you have any questions or comments, please contact the school board.
