PJC Holds Graduation

A total of 123 students walked across the PJC stage in Centennial Hall Thursday night before a standing room audience to receive their diplomas or certificates during commencement exercises for Panola Junior College.

The occasion marked the end of a year's work for many students who have spent four years at the college.

At 7:30 p.m., in the presence of a full house, the Rev. J. A. G. Wear, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated as the opening service.

The U.S. Role Is Still Strong

by Jim Sterne

The role of the U.S. in the world has been a topic of debate for many years. Some argue that the U.S. should reduce its military presence abroad, while others believe that the U.S. should maintain its global leadership. In this editorial, we will discuss the reasons why the U.S. role is still strong.

Firstly, the U.S. remains the world's most powerful economy. The U.S. economy is the largest and most diversified in the world. It is also the most technologically advanced, with a strong emphasis on innovation and research.

Secondly, the U.S. military remains the most powerful in the world. The U.S. military provides security for the country and its allies, and is a key player in maintaining stability in regions around the world.

Thirdly, the U.S. is home to many of the world's leading universities and research institutions. These institutions are responsible for much of the world's scientific and technological progress.

Fourthly, the U.S. is a leading player in international organizations, such as the United Nations and the World Trade Organization.

In conclusion, the U.S. role is still strong due to its economic, military, and intellectual prowess. The U.S. continues to be a key player in the global arena, and its influence is likely to continue for many years to come.

Federal Flood Insurance Is Now Available Locally

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has announced that flood insurance is now available locally for those living in flood-prone areas. This new program is designed to help protect homeowners and businesses from the financial burden of flood damage.

FEMA has partnered with local insurance companies to provide flood insurance policies that are tailored to the needs of each community. The policies are available to homeowners, renters, and business owners who are located in flood-prone areas.

FEMA encourages residents to take advantage of this new program and protect their property from potential flooding. Flood insurance is an important part of any comprehensive disaster preparedness plan.

For more information on how to obtain flood insurance, residents should contact their local insurance company or visit the FEMA website at fema.gov.
