Mini Bus Service Cuts

Two Days Dropped From Schedule

The first bus service for the county's new mini bus system has been cut, and a total of two city buses have been cut from the schedule. The cuts were made to reduce service on two routes that had been operating since February. The two routes, which serve the city's downtown and suburban areas, were cut due to low ridership.

Panola Street Studied

For Traffic Signals

In response to the mounting traffic congestion in Panola, the city council is studying the installation of traffic signals at several intersections. A team of consultants has been hired to study the feasibility of installing signals, and the city council will consider the recommendations at its next meeting.

Sewer Loop's Cost Increases

The cost of the sewer loop in Galveston has increased by 12%. The increase is due to the higher cost of construction materials and labor. The city council will vote on the increase at its next meeting.

National Debt Felt Locally

The national debt is felt locally in the form of higher taxes and interest payments. The city council is considering ways to reduce the cost of servicing the debt.

Baker Will Seek Post

District Judge J. Baker, recently appointed to the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals, will seek re-election to the position. Judge Baker has been a popular judge in the district, and his appointment to the appeals court was met with widespread approval.

Local Building Booms

Topped $1 Million Last Year

The construction industry in Galveston has been booming, with over $1 million in building permits issued last year. The boom is a result of the city's economic growth and the expansion of local businesses.

Tower To Speak Here

The First United Methodist Church has invited a speaker from the church to give a talk at its annual fund drive. The speaker will discuss the importance of giving back to the community.

OBITUARIES
A Dead Horse

It seems a waste of effort and time, with this "dead horse" still being run around, to wonder why the Panola County Chamber of Commerce and the local banks are not more active in promoting the benefits of the Panama Canal for our local economy. It is understandable why the Panama Canal is not actively promoted by these institutions, as there are no immediate benefits to be gained from its completion. However, it is important to recognize the long-term benefits that this project could bring to our community. It is a matter of waiting for the right time to invest in the Panama Canal, as it is a project that is likely to have a positive impact on our economy for years to come.

Overreaction

Recent events have highlighted the need for a more balanced approach to the Panama Canal project. The Panama Canal is not simply a way to transport goods, but also a significant source of revenue for the local economy. It is important to recognize the potential benefits of this project, rather than dismissing it as a waste of time and resources.

British Oil

We do not mean to downplay the importance of the Panama Canal project, but it is important to recognize that the benefits of this project are not limited to the transportation of goods. The Panama Canal is also a significant source of revenue for the local economy, and it is important to recognize the potential benefits of this project, rather than dismissing it as a waste of time and resources.

Underpaid?

The Senate Appropriations Committee has proposed an increase in the federal budget of $10 billion for the Panama Canal project. This is a significant increase, and it is important to recognize the potential benefits of this project, rather than dismissing it as a waste of time and resources.

Crime Crisis

It is important to recognize the potential benefits of the Panama Canal project, rather than dismissing it as a waste of time and resources. The Panama Canal is not simply a way to transport goods, but also a significant source of revenue for the local economy. It is important to consider the potential benefits of this project, rather than dismissing it as a waste of time and resources.

PANOLA COUNTY

"I'd like to help, but I'm just one person."

Do you really think God will accept that?

Maybe you can't help others all the time. That's true. But doing small things with others at your local school or church. That's another way you can do together. Example: In Washington, one religious group run a halfway house to help women punished on their own. God may send you to help with this half way house.

Start reading your local newspaper like the Watchman and make a call.
Look how you economize!

Nuptial Vows Are Pledged

By Cherlaine Dickerson

"We both cherished and enjoyed the one Sunday Church Picnic in the park...." Sunday, November 28

The first thing that comes to mind is the happy couple's kiss at the altar. It was a beautiful moment. The sun was setting in the background and the aisle was softly illuminated by the candels. The couple stood together, their hands held tightly, ready to make their vows. The minister asked them if they were ready. They nodded in agreement.
