Enforce Speed Limits
Jester Advises City

If the City of Cartage, north speed limit would be raised to 30 miles per hour, all road signs showing the limit would be changed to reflect the new speed limit. The city would also have to seek permission from the Texas Transportation Commission to raise the speed limit.

Jester said that he will be meeting with officials from the TxDOT to discuss the possibility of raising the speed limit. If the TxDOT agrees to the proposal, Jester said that he will proceed with the plan.

Jester also said that he will be working with the Cartage Police Department to ensure that speed limits are enforced. The city will also be considering the installation of additional traffic cameras to help enforce the new speed limit.

If the City of Cartage raises the speed limit, it will be the first city in Texas to do so. Jester said that he believes that this will be a positive move for the city and its residents.

Cartage Dive-A-Thon Slated

The Cartage Dive-A-Thon will be held on the Cartage City Beach on Saturday, August 13th, from 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM. The event is open to the public and will feature a variety of activities, including diving, fishing, and boating.

The event is sponsored by the Cartage Parks and Recreation Department and will include a diving competition, where participants will compete to see who can stay underwater the longest.

In addition to the diving competition, there will be a fishing tournament and a boat parade. The event will also feature a variety of food and beverage vendors.

VP: A Victim Of Expediency

By Jim Stovall

There has been much discussion about the issue of expediency in the foreign policy of the United States. The complex decisions that leaders must make often involve compromises that may be seen as less than optimal. However, these decisions are often necessary to maintain international relations and ensure national security.

VP: A Victim Of Expediency

There has been much wriggling of the tail by the Senior Vice-President, a position roughly synonymous with the Secretary-General, in the hierarchy of the organization. This is not unusual, but it is both disturbing and disquieting. The Senior Vice-President is a position of trust and responsibility, and one that requires a high level of integrity and dedication. The recent actions of the Senior Vice-President have cast a shadow over the organization, and it is important that they be addressed.

The Senior Vice-President has been accused of several financial improprieties, and the investigation is ongoing. It is clear that the organization is in a difficult position, and that the Senior Vice-President has not been acting in the best interests of the organization.

The organization must take decisive action to address these issues, and to ensure that the Senior Vice-President is held accountable for their actions. The organization must also take steps to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

Taxpayer's
Ask

What do you really mean when you say "I can't do it?"

I'm not sure what you mean. Are you saying that you can't do it because you're too busy? Or are you saying that you can't do it because you don't want to do it? Or are you saying that you can't do it because you're not able to do it?

If you're saying that you can't do it because you're too busy, then I think that's a perfectly reasonable answer. It's important to prioritize your time and to make sure that you're dedicating yourself to the tasks that are most important to you.

If you're saying that you can't do it because you don't want to do it, then I think that's a little more concerning. It's important to consider the impact that your decisions have on others, and to make sure that you're acting in the best interests of those around you.

If you're saying that you can't do it because you're not able to do it, then I think that's also a reasonable answer. It's important to recognize your own limitations and to work towards overcoming them.

But I'm not sure what you mean when you say "I can't do it?"

Enjoy a 10-minute call to Boston without shelling out a lot of clams.

I'm not sure what you're referring to. Are you referring to a call to Boston? Or are you referring to clams?

If you're referring to a call to Boston, then I'm not sure what you're trying to accomplish. Calls to Boston are typically handled through a phone system, and it's not clear how you could avoid shelling out a lot of clams.

If you're referring to clams, then I'm not sure what you're trying to achieve. Clams are typically used in seafood dishes, and it's not clear how they would be relevant to a call to Boston.

But I'm not sure what you mean when you say "I can't do it?"

Don't worry folks. There's really not much difference...

I'm not sure what you're referring to. Are you referring to a difference in the quality of the call or the clams?

If you're referring to the quality of the call, then I'm not sure what you mean. Calls to Boston are typically handled through a phone system, and it's not clear how there could be a difference in the quality of the call.

If you're referring to the clams, then I'm not sure what you're trying to achieve. Clams are typically used in seafood dishes, and it's not clear how they would be relevant to a call to Boston.

But I'm not sure what you mean when you say "I can't do it?"

The Lady Lives A Peaceful Life

On The Shore Of Lake Mureaul

By Larry Candleman

The Lady who lives on the Shore of Lake Mureaul is a fascinating character. She prefers to be known as Emily but, her friends at the resort affectionately call her Miss Emily. Emily is a woman of few words, but her actions speak volumes. She spends most of her time on her small wooden boat, fishing in the early morning hours. Her catch of the day is usually small, but it's the method that counts, and Emily is content with her peaceful existence.

The Lady's cottage is a simple structure with a small porch that overlooks the calm waters of Lake Mureaul. It's not the size of her home that impresses, but the serenity it brings. The old wooden doors creak as they open, inviting visitors in to greet the Lady with a warm smile. Inside, the walls are adorned with framed photographs and handwritten notes, each story telling of a different adventure Emily has embarked on.

Emily has a passion for quilling, a craft that involves using narrow strips of paper rolled and folded to create intricate designs. Her workspace is a small corner of the cottage, filled with an array of colorful paper strips and tools. She spends hours perfecting her craft, each piece telling a story of its own.

The Lady's garden, a small plot of land beside her cottage, is a testament to her love for nature. She grows flowers, herbs, and vegetables, each plant carefully tended to. Her garden is more than just a source of food; it's a haven for wildlife, attracting butterflies and hummingbirds.

Emily's lifestyle is a lesson in simplicity and contentment. She's always ready to share her knowledge and experiences with visitors, each interaction leaving a lasting impression. The Lady of the Shore of Lake Mureaul may be a mystery to some, but to those who know her, she's a beacon of tranquility and freedom.

The Lady's cottage is surrounded by nature, a peaceful retreat from the hustle and bustle of the world. It's a place where one can find solace and reflection, a reminder of the beauty and serenity that can be found in the simplest of things.
