Scholarship Is Taking A Dive

The second quarter academic performance of the College Station Independent School District has shown a dramatic decline in the number of students receiving scholarships. The increase in tuition costs has led to a decrease in the number of students who qualify for scholarships. The district has implemented a new policy that requires students to maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0 to be eligible for scholarships. This policy has resulted in a decrease in the number of students who qualify for scholarships. The district is grappling with the challenge of finding ways to increase the number of students who qualify for scholarships.
