Phillips Requests Investigation

Into Death Of Local Rusk Patient

Fayette County Attorney Boddie Phillips, courtroom lawyer, filed a motion yesterday in a death case in Fayette County. Phillips said the county attorney's office had been looking into the case for several months because of the death of a local man. Phillips said he was going to file a petition in the case, saying that the man was killed by the county school board.

Juniors, not just the boys, as expected, are working on the oil rig in Texas. School districts a few miles from the该项目 are starting to prepare their girls for oil field work. The girls are learning about oil rig work and the necessary equipment and skills needed for the job. One of the girls, a junior at the nearby high school, is attending classes with the other boys and girls working on the rig.

Carthage Girls End Five-Year Drought

The Carthage girls' basketball team ended a five-year drought in the Class B North's tournament by defeating Owosso 30-18 in the championship game at the State Farm Insurance Fieldhouse in Owosso. The Carthage girls used a strong defense to keep Owosso scoreless in the first half. Carthage's defense held Owosso scoreless for the first 12 minutes of the first half, and the Carthage girls never looked back. The Carthage girls led 12-2 at the end of the first half, and Owosso never came close to catching up.
