County Postpones Action Again

On Insurance, Jail Renovation

Palo Pano County Commissioners this week deferred action on two controversial proposals.

The commissioners, after hearing arguments over the past several weeks, have had a difficult time coming to a decision on whether to go ahead with the insurance plan or to move forward with a jail renovation.

The insurance plan, which would allow the county to save money in the long run, has been opposed by some members of the community who believe it would be more costly in the short term.

The jail renovation, on the other hand, has faced opposition from those who believe it is not necessary and that the money could be better spent elsewhere.

The commissioners will continue to consider these proposals in the coming weeks and will make a decision at their next meeting.

Eventually, the suspect was spotted near a rural area, leading to a wild goose chase where the authorities were able to capture the suspect without injury to either party.
