Border cuts disappointing

Congress decided to add $5.1 billion to President Reagan's budget to replace the cuts in the Border Patrol. The new Patrol Center's budget will be $4.2 billion, the same as the original budget. The vote was 371-26 in the House, with 26 Republicans supporting the budget cuts.

In Washington, the cuts were expected to be larger because the House will be voting on a new budget, but the Senate is not expected to agree. The cuts will be in the Border Patrol's intelligence and enforcement programs.

In Arizona, the cuts are expected to be smaller because the state has been a leader in border security. The cuts will be in the state's intelligence and enforcement programs.

Feds fair to small business?

The government should support small businesses as much as large corporations. The government should be fair to small businesses because they are the backbone of the American economy. The government should support small businesses by providing them with funding, tax breaks, and other incentives.

You and Your Money

It is important to save money and invest for the future. It is important to save money for retirement, education, and emergencies. It is important to invest in stocks, bonds, and other investments to grow your wealth.

Out of the Past

From the files of the Pamela Matchman

In the past, people did not have the luxury of modern technology. They had to rely on their own ingenuity and creativity to solve problems. The past is an important part of our history and should be remembered.

Shape sweaters for good looks

Sweaters are a popular clothing item for both men and women. They are comfortable and can be worn with a variety of other clothing items. It is important to choose the right sweater for the right occasion.

ISSUES OF LIFE AND DEATH

New England Hospice provides end-of-life care at home, a journey of love and support

End-of-life care is a journey of love and support for the terminally ill and their families. New England Hospice is a leader in this important work, offering hospice services at home, in hospitals, and in nursing homes. New England Hospice cares for people of all ages, regardless of diagnosis, providing comprehensive services to help ease the burdens of end-of-life care.

New England Hospice is committed to providing care that is both clinically excellent and compassionate. Our team of nurses, social workers, chaplains, and volunteers work together to create a personalized plan of care that meets the unique needs of each individual and their family. We provide pain and symptom management, spiritual support, grief counseling, and respite care for caregivers.

New England Hospice also offers respite care for caregivers, and we provide transportation to medical appointments and other necessary services. Our team is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to ensure that our patients receive the care they need, when they need it.

New England Hospice is a not-for-profit organization that is dedicated to improving the quality of life for the terminally ill and their families. If you or someone you know is facing a terminal illness, please contact New England Hospice to learn more about our services and how we can help.

Tatum accepts building bid

Tatum government officials took the first step toward constructing a new city hall by accepting the lowest bid of $35,643.00 from E. J. Murphy, a construction company from Tyler.

Tatum officials said they were pleased with the results of the bidding process, which was advertised in the local newspaper and received responses from several contractors. The winning bid was for the construction of a new two-story city hall building with office space for the city’s administration and council chambers.

In addition to the building itself, the project will also include landscaping and other necessary amenities. Officials said they expect the building to be completed within six months.

County to consider gas-buying request

County officials are considering a request from a local gas supplier to enter into a contract to purchase and supply gas to the county.

The supplier, which operates in the surrounding area, has expressed interest in providing gas to the county for use in its facilities. County officials said they would consider the request, which would allow the county to purchase gas at a lower cost than what it currently pays.

The request is part of the county’s ongoing efforts to reduce its carbon footprint and to lower its energy costs. County officials said they are considering a range of options, including converting to a renewable energy source, to help meet the county’s sustainability goals.

Beckville UF drive tops goal

Beckville’s United Fund campaign has surpassed its goal, raising over $250,000 to support local charitable organizations.

The campaign, which is supported by local businesses and individuals, has been ongoing for several months and aims to raise funds for various organizations in the community. This year’s target was $200,000, but donations have exceeded that figure.

Organizers said they are grateful for the community’s support and are confident the funds raised will make a significant impact on local organizations.

Candidates file for office

Several candidates have filed for office in the upcoming election, including a number of incumbent officials.

The candidates filed at the county courthouse to register for the primary election, which is scheduled for March. The candidates will be vying for positions including county commissioner and judge.

Election officials said they are preparing for a busy election season and are ready to handle any challenges that may arise.

Union strikers picket Panola gasoline plant

Strikers at the Panola gasoline plant have picketed outside the facility, demanding better working conditions and higher wages.

The strikers, who have been on the job for several months, said they are unhappy with the company’s response to their demands and are determined to continue their protest until their concerns are addressed.

The company has refused to negotiate with the strikers and has called their demands unrealistic. However, union officials said they remain committed to the fight and are confident they will eventually be heard.
