Local firefighters battle rash of blazes in county

Late afternoon and evening rains are expected to hamper efforts of local firefighters to battle a rash of blazes that have broken out in the county over the past two weeks. According to Chief Fire Marshal Joe Johnson, the fires started on private land and have spread to several areas in the county.

Johnson said the fires started on private land and have spread to several areas in the county. He said the fires started on private land and have spread to several areas in the county. Dee's Doodles

By Dee Davis

All of the world remembers even though some of us fail to realize that other people express themselves through words and sometimes through pictures. Sometimes we tend to forget that life is full of stories and moments to remember.

I am a frequent visitor to a small town in the middle of the country where people are friendly and, as they say, "The people are a part of the town and the town is a part of the people." The town has a weekly newspaper called the "Weekly Whiffle" which publishes a column called "Doodling with Dee." The column is full of humorous and insightful observations about life in the countryside.

One such column from "Doodling with Dee" is titled "The Pecan Pie Incident." It describes a peculiar incident that occurred during a town meeting. A local woman who is known for her delicious pecan pies was brought to the meeting by the mayor. The pies were greeted with great excitement, and the woman was asked to cut one for everyone to sample. As she cut the pie, she realized that she had made a mistake in her calculations. She had only made enough for one person, not the entire town. The town, however, was not deterred by this setback. They decided to make a new batch of pies with the help of the town's bakers and the pies were served with a smile. The column ends with a lesson about the value of community and the importance of working together to overcome challenges.
San Augustine's Governor

He was a brigadier general, attorney general, secretary of state, ambassador, and United States Senator. He may have been the first Texas governor — and probably the last — to personally lead troops into battle.

Henderson was a Mississippi lawyer in 1835 when he heard of the Texas revolution against Mexico. He recruited volunteers and rode to Texas' rescue, anxious to fight. But, instead, Sam Houston sent him back to the U.S. to recruit more volunteers. By the time he got back to Texas, the fighting was over.

Henderson stayed in Texas, served as a minister to England and France, and in 1845 when Texas was annexed to the U.S., he was elected governor.
