Homesteading deadline set

Property owners in Panola County have until Monday to file a homestead declaration in the county courthouse to protect their homes from tax foreclosures. This deadline applies to all land owners in Panola County. If you do not file a declaration, your property may be sold to pay taxes. The homestead declaration protects a portion of your property from being sold to pay taxes. It is strongly recommended that all property owners file a declaration to protect their property.

Three-ring circus

The government and people of the United States have been preoccupied with the Korean situation for the past few years. The Korean conflict has had a profound effect on the political landscape of the world. It has brought to the forefront the problems of international cooperation, the maintenance of peace, and the prevention of war. The United Nations, representing the countries of the world, have been working to bring about a peaceful resolution to the conflict. The role of the United States in this process has been significant, as the United States has been a leading member of the United Nations and has provided economic and military assistance to South Korea. The situation in Korea is complex and difficult, and it will require the continued efforts of all nations to achieve a lasting peace.

Wanted: Army of tailors

By John J. Quinlan

As the number of tailors in the United States continues to decline, the demand for their services is increasing. The traditional role of the tailor has shifted from creating bespoke garments to providing alteration services for ready-made clothing. This has led to a decline in the number of tailors, as fewer people are willing to pay the high prices charged for bespoke clothing. However, the demand for tailoring services remains strong, particularly for formal wear and custom-made clothing. The future of the tailor's craft is uncertain, but it is clear that the industry will need to adapt to changing consumer preferences.

You and Your Money

By Paul W. McManus

The economy of the United States is in a period of flux, with both positive and negative indicators. The unemployment rate has remained low, indicating strong job growth. However, the stock market has been volatile, with large fluctuations in the value of shares. The government is facing significant budget deficits, which could have a negative impact on the economy in the future. Despite these challenges, the economy shows signs of strength, and it is likely to continue to grow in the coming years.

Homestead exemptions cut taxes

Panola County, homesteaders may see a drop in their property tax bills later this year as Senate Bill 2054 nears the governor's desk. The bill, sponsored by Sen. Michael Chmielewski, R-Eden, would give homestead exemptions to homeowners based on a formula that would take into account the homeowner's income and home equity.

Austinites have long enjoyed homestead exemptions, but Chmielewski says the bill is needed to help homeowners in the state. "This is just another step in making sure that the state is providing a fair and equitable tax burden," he said.

The bill would provide homestead exemptions to homeowners based on a formula that takes into account the homeowner's income and home equity. The exemption would be based on the homeowner's income, with a maximum exemption of $10,000 for homeowners with incomes up to $20,000.

Family disagrees on punishment

Alisha Mcdonald of Midland, Texas, was charged with assault on a public servant, a third-degree felony, after she was caught on camera hitting a police officer. She was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

"It's not what I expected," McDonald said. "I thought it was going to be a light sentence."

McDonald's attorney, Mark McDonald, said the sentence was harsh.

"This is a much more severe sentence than what we expected," he said.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals will hear the case in June.

McCormick given sentence

Jody McCormick, 35, was sentenced to 20 years in prison after being found guilty of capital murder.

"I'm sorry to have to do this to you," Judge John Allen told McCormick. "But you've done a lot of damage to our community."

Allen said McCormick's actions had "shattered" the community.

McCormick's attorney, Gary Allen, said his client would appeal the sentence.

"We're going to take this to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals," he said.
