Hostages in Iran

This is another day of imprisonment for the Americans held captive in Iran. The situation is fluid and rapidly changing, and the slightest move on the part of any of the individuals could result in a dramatic change. The world watches with bated breath, hoping for a resolution that brings peace and reunification.

You And Your Money

Property taxes low

The Comptroller reports that property taxes are currently at an all-time low. This is due to a combination of factors, including lower property values and a reduction in tax rates. The impact of this on homeowners is significant, as they are able to save money on annual tax payments.

Ghoulish policy

A recent policy initiative has raised concerns about its potential impact on society. The proposal, which aims to address the issue of homelessness, includes measures that some believe are too severe. The question remains as to whether these policies will succeed in addressing the problem or if they will further alienate those affected.

Out Of The Past

From the files of the Dallas Morning News

The Dallas Morning News has unearthed some old and interesting stories. One such story involves a local celebrity who was once a revolutionary figure. The details of their life and work are fascinating and provide insight into the history of the city.

Dee's Doodles

In Dee's Doodles, we explore the world of social media and how it impacts our daily lives. The internet is a powerful tool, and its influence on society cannot be overstated. Whether it's for good or bad, we must continue to adapt and learn how to navigate this digital landscape.

Hot weather controls destructive pest in pine forests

The recent heat wave has had a significant impact on pine forests across the region. The high temperatures have made it difficult for these pests to thrive, leading to a reduction in their population. This is a positive development for the ecosystem and the communities that rely on these forests.
