Son of Blob

This story of New York's High School of Performing Arts is a fascinating look at the lives of the students and staff members who make up the school's drama department. It's a snapshot of a unique community of creative individuals who work together to bring stories to life on stage. The drama department is the heart of the school, and the students and staff members are devoted to their craft. They work hard to bring their stories to life, and they're always looking for new ways to connect with their audiences.

Gary Bobcats have bad night on Chireno courts

As the lights flickered on the court late last night, the Gary Bobcats were facing a harsh reality—their season would end in the first round of the playoffs. The Chireno Indians, led by their star player, John Smith, scored a successful layup, pushing their lead to 30 points. The Gary Bobcats, who had been in the lead for most of the game, couldn't contain the Indian's offensive prowess. Despite a valiant effort by the Gary Bobcats, the game was over by halftime. The final score was 95-65 in favor of Chireno. The Gary Bobcats will now have to regroup and prepare for next season.

The next in our weekly series is Pat Westmoreland's "The Fence and the Deer." The title is a metaphor for the seesaw balance between the forest and the open field. The poem is a celebration of nature and its bounty, a reminder that all life is interconnected and interdependent. The poem speaks to the beauty of simplicity and the importance of appreciating the small things in life. The Fence and the Deer is a call to action, encouraging us to be stewards of our environment and to respect the delicate balance that nature requires.
Thou shalt call His name Jesus

Background Scripture: Matthew 1:21

John 3:16 - "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."
