Hamstring still hurting
Tatum question
200 meters Friday

JACKSONVILLE — Tatum senior Deuce is still being held out of basketball practice because of his hamstring injury and it doesn’t look like he will play until February at the earliest.

"He’s been out for a couple weeks now, so we’re not going to push him back into the rotation just yet," head coach Tim Harris said.

The senior guard had his hamstring checked by a trainer earlier this week and was given the go-ahead to return to practice. He has been limited to light activities such as running drills and shooting around the court. Harris said he will continue to monitor Tatum’s progress before making any decisions about his return to the starting lineup.

"We’re going to take it slow and make sure he’s fully recovered before considering his return," Harris said.

Civil War events staged Sunday

WILLIAM A. HORNAM, head of the board of directors of the Carthage Chamber of Commerce, dedicated the Civil War Memorial on the square during a ceremony Sunday afternoon. This memorial was dedicated to the memory of all soldiers who fought in the Civil War.

The ceremony began with the playing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" followed by a reading of the Gettysburg Address by William H. Hornam. "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" was sung, followed by a brief speech by the late Dr. J. E. Crabb, former president of East Texas State University, who said, "We are gathered here today to pay tribute to those who gave their lives in the struggle for freedom." The ceremony concluded with a presentation of wreaths to the monument by members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The dedication ceremony was attended by a large crowd of people who showed their appreciation for the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce in erecting the memorial. The monument is located on the square in Carthage and serves as a reminder of the sacrifices made by those who fought in the Civil War.

The Carthage Chamber of Commerce is planning to hold a Civil War reenactment this spring. The reenactment will be held on the square in Carthage and will feature soldiers from across Texas. The reenactment will feature battles, speeches, and a parade.

In conclusion, the dedication of the Civil War Memorial was a wonderful event that brought together people from all over the community to honor those who served in the Civil War. We should all be grateful to those who fought for our country and remember their sacrifice.
