Although there were no injuries, the noise from the explosion was so loud that it was heard as far away as 10 miles. The pipeline was carrying natural gas from a field owned by the company. The exact cause of the explosion is currently under investigation by the Department of Public Safety.

Aglow history outlined

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my thoughts on the history of the "loop" in our area. The "loop" has been a significant feature of our local landscape for many years, and it has played a crucial role in the development of the community. From its origins as a way to connect different parts of the city, the "loop" has evolved into a symbol of our community’s resilience.

Sincerely,

John Smith

Young Carthage woman enjoys taking a 'flying leap'

By Debbie Almadies
What prompted young Carthage woman to try her hand at skydiving? It was a spur-of-the-moment decision. She had been talking to a friend about it and decided to give it a try. Mrs. Mickey took the leap and landed back on the ground with a whoop of excitement.

Mrs. Mickey, a certified skydiver, had been skydiving for years. She was excited to see what it was like to fly with the wind at her back. The feeling of weightlessness and the rush of adrenaline were exhilarating. She felt like she could fly.

Despite the initial excitement, Mrs. Mickey struggled with the fear of falling. She had to overcome her fear to become a seasoned skydiver. She learned to control her body and maintain balance in mid-air.

Mrs. Mickey's husband, who was also a skydiver, encouraged her to take the leap. He had been skydiving for years and knew what she was getting into. He was proud of her courage and supported her decision. Mrs. Mickey was grateful for his support and encouragement.

Mrs. Mickey's friends were amazed by her bravery. They couldn't believe she had the courage to take the leap. They were proud of her and her determination to overcome her fears.

Mrs. Mickey's story is one of courage and bravery. It's a reminder that we can overcome our fears and achieve our goals if we are willing to take the leap. Mrs. Mickey's story is a testament to the power of determination and the importance of supporting one another.
