COMMUNITY FOUR extinguish blazes

The Community Four volunteer firefighters were called to four fires last week. One of the fires was in Searcy. It was reported that the fire started in the garage and spread to the house. The other three fires were in Jonesboro, Paragould, and West Memphis. The fires were quickly extinguished by the firefighters, who were praised for their quick response. The cause of the fires is still under investigation. For further information, contact the Community Four volunteer firefighters at 678-3587.

A LOOK AT IMPORTANT ISSUES FACING PANOLA COUNTY TODAY

Wednesday, May 11, 1982

1. TPA Highlights
   - Slimmed budget provides only minimal raises for teachers

   By Paul Portera
   "For almost a decade now the Texas Education Agency has been trying to make sure that all teachers in the state are treated fairly and equitably," said State Rep. Paul Portera. "But it's difficult to keep up with the ever-increasing demands for higher salaries and benefits, and with the budget cuts that have been necessary to balance the state's books." Principal teachers in the Panola County School District will receive a 3% salary increase this year, while most others will see minimal raises. The TPA is concerned that this trend could continue, and is working to ensure that teachers' salaries keep pace with inflation and rising living costs.

2. TALK-Line
   - 693-8255

   TALK-LINE was established in the Panola County School District to provide a forum for parents, students, and community members to voice their concerns and suggestions regarding the district's operations. The line is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The TALK-LINE is staffed by a team of dedicated volunteers who are committed to ensuring that the district's priorities are aligned with the needs and expectations of the community.

3. Friendship a quality not always appreciated
   - By Robert O'Brien
   "Friendship is often underestimated by both educators and the public," said Robert O'Brien, a member of the Panola County Board of Education. "Many people assume that friendship is a natural and unimportant aspect of a teacher's role, but it is actually a crucial component of effective teaching. A teacher's ability to establish and maintain positive relationships with students and colleagues can have a significant impact on the learning environment and the overall success of the school district." O'Brien emphasized the importance of recognizing and valuing the role that friendship plays in education.

4. Nuclear bickering hard to understand
   - By Bill Haley
   "Nuclear bickering has been a constant source of frustration for many years," said Bill Haley, a local community leader. "It seems like every time we think we have a solution, something new comes along to complicate things further. It is difficult to know how to approach this issue, and it is frustrating to see resources being wasted on bickering instead of on finding a solution. We need to work together as a community to find a way to move forward and address the real issues that are facing us." Haley called for a more collaborative approach to addressing the challenges facing the nuclear industry.

5. 'Sin Taxes' being eyed
   - By Bill Haley
   "The idea of imposing 'sin taxes' on certain products is not new," said Bill Haley, a local community leader. "But it is a proposal that has gained traction in recent years as a way to raise revenue without increasing taxes on other essential items. The idea is that certain products, such as alcohol and tobacco, are considered "sins" and therefore should be taxed more heavily. However, there are concerns that such taxes could disproportionately affect lower-income families and that they could lead to decreased consumption of these products.

In Holland bullriding
Norman wins jackpot

An elderly man rode his bulls at the Holland Fair this week, and the crowd was there to watch. The man, who appeared to be in his 80s, was wearing a white shirt and blue jeans. He was riding a black and white bull that was tied to a post at the fairgrounds.

The crowd was excited as the man took to the arena, and he was quickly surrounded by camera crews. The man seemed to be enjoying himself, and he took the time to wave to the cheering crowd.

The fair went on as usual, with rides, games, and food. The weather was sunny and warm, and the fairgrounds were packed with people.

Bearcat Band claims top honors

The Bearcat Band was the top show band at the Three Rivers Music Festival in May. This marks the second year in a row that the Bearcat Band has been victorious in the contest.

"It was a very stressful but rewarding experience," said Band Director Carol Todd. "The band worked hard throughout the season, practicing and preparing for the competition. Their hard work paid off as they were named the top show band in the competition." Todd said the band will use this opportunity to continue improving and competing in future festivals.

The band's performance featured a variety of styles and genres, from classic rock to salsa. The students were led by experienced and skilled instructors, who provided guidance and support throughout the process. The band's success is a testament to their dedication and commitment to their craft.

Citizens concerned about stray canines in Carthage

The city of Carthage is facing a rise in stray canines, and local residents are concerned about the situation. Citizens have reported an increase in the number of stray canines in the city, and many are calling for action to address the issue.

"We need to take action to ensure the safety of our community," said one concerned citizen. "We have a responsibility to protect the citizens of Carthage, and it's time we take steps to address this issue." The city of Carthage is currently discussing possible actions to address the rise in stray canines, and residents are encouraged to participate in the discussions.

City asked to clarify position on sidewalks

The city of Carthage is working on a new plan to improve sidewalks in the city. However, some residents are concerned about the potential impact of the plan on their property.

"We don't want to lose our sidewalks," said one resident. "We need to make sure that the city is doing everything it can to protect our property rights." The city of Carthage is working to address these concerns and ensure that residents are aware of the potential impact of the plan.

LOUISIANA-PACIFIC PLANS EXPANSION

Louisiana-Pacific is planning to expand its plant in Carthage. The company plans to invest $100 million in the expansion, which will create 200 new jobs.

"We are excited about the potential this expansion offers," said a company spokesperson. "We believe that the expansion will help to boost the local economy and create new opportunities for our employees." The company is working with local officials to ensure that the expansion is completed in a way that is environmentally friendly.

Plant disease appears

A new plant disease has been detected in Carthage. Local farmers are being urged to take precautions to prevent the spread of the disease.

"We need to be proactive in addressing this issue," said one farmer. "We don't want to see the disease spread and cause further harm to our crops." The local agricultural community is working together to address the issue and prevent further spread.

THREE ROADS TO "NOBILITY"

There are three roads to "nobility," according to the ancient Greeks: birth, wealth, and culture. In modern times, these concepts have evolved, but the principles remain the same. The key to achieving nobility is through hard work and dedication, rather than simply by birth or wealth.

"It is important to remember that nobility is not achieved through luck or chance," said a local expert. "It is earned through hard work and perseverance. We should strive to be the best that we can be, rather than simply relying on our circumstances."
