Children's deaths caused by virus

By Hale Holden

An unusual death on one child and two deaths of two children are being investigated by the Panola County Sheriff’s Office as potentially being caused by a virus. The deaths occurred in a short period of time and raise concern among parents and medical professionals.

Dr. W.C. Smith, head medical examiner, has indicated that there is no evidence of foul play in the deaths. However, he has started an investigation to determine the cause of death and to rule out any other possibilities.

Several people have come forward with information about the deaths, including a neighbor who witnessed a child playing with a small toy while in the backyard. The neighbor said the child was seen playing with the toy before being found dead in the home.

If you have any information about these deaths or any other suspicious activity, please contact the Panola County Sheriff’s Office.

Children express love on Father's Day

By Don Leler

Children are often the best gift on Father's Day. They express their love and appreciation in many ways. Here are some examples from our community:

- John Smith, 5, gave his father a handmade card with a picture of a superhero on it.
- Sarah Johnson, 10, made a scrapbook of pictures of her family and some of her favorite memories.
- Tom Brown, 7, made a video of himself reading a poem he wrote especially for his father.
- Emily Davis, 8, made a cake with her father's favorite recipe.
- David Jackson, 12, made a video of himself playing the guitar.

These are just a few examples of how children express their love on Father's Day. Each child has their own unique way of showing their appreciation.

For more information or to arrange for a gift, please contact your local gift shop or florist. They are always happy to help you find the perfect gift for your father.

A LOOK AT PERSONALITIES, HERITAGE AND LIFESTYLES IN OUR COMMUNITY

In life of single parent...

It takes a lot of work to be a ‘Superdad’

By Don Leler

Life is tough for a single parent. But for one family, it takes a lot of effort to stay on top of things. Meet the 'Superdad' of our community.

Joe and Mary have been living with their three children since Mary's husband passed away two years ago. Joe has to work two jobs in order to make ends meet. He is a full-time teacher at a local high school, but also works nights as a waiter. In addition, he volunteers at a local food bank and helps out at the community center.

Mary, who used to be a nurse, is now struggling to find work. She is looking for a job that will allow her to be home with her children. She is hoping to find a part-time position that will fit into her schedule.

Joe and Mary have been trying to make ends meet, but it's been a challenge. They have had to cut back on some of the things they used to do as a family. They haven't been able to afford a vacation this year, and they are looking for ways to save money.

Despite the challenges, Joe and Mary are determined to make things work. They are proud of their children, and they want to give them a good life. They are hopeful that things will improve in the future.

"We have some tough times ahead," says Mary. "But we are working hard to make things better. We are doing the best we can, and we are grateful for all the support we have received."

For more information, please contact Joe or Mary at their home. They are always happy to talk about their experience and share their story with others.

Hospital board approves equipment purchase, contract changes

By Carol Charles
Panola County Post
A hospital board meeting that normally begins with a review of the hospital's financial status, employee performance, and budget updates was dominated by discussions on the purchase of medical equipment and a new contract for services.

The hospital board, meeting in regular session on Tuesday, May 24, approved the purchase of new medical equipment for the hospital. The equipment includes a new CT scanner, a new MRI machine, and a new ultrasound machine. The total cost of the equipment is $1.2 million.

The board also approved a new contract with a service provider for the management of the hospital's laboratory services. The new contract is for a period of five years and includes provisions for the provision of additional services, including genetic testing and immunology services.

The hospital's annual budget for the coming year was also discussed, with the board approving an increase in the budget for the purchase of new equipment and the expansion of services.

County Auditor releases report for May

The monthly audit report for Panola County for the month of May has been released. The report shows a decrease in the amount of sales tax revenue collected, compared to the same month last year.

Sales tax revenues dropped by 10% in May, compared to May of last year. The report attributes the decrease to a decrease in consumer spending due to the ongoing pandemic. The report also notes that the decrease in sales tax revenues is expected to have a significant impact on the county's budget.

Western Auto's HOT WEATHER SALE

The monthly sale report for Western Auto has been released, with the report showing a significant increase in the sale of summer tires and accessories.

The report shows that the sale of summer tires increased by 25% in May, compared to the same month last year. The report attributes the increase to the ongoing pandemic, which has led to an increase in the sale of summer tires and accessories.

The report also notes that the sale of accessories, such as air conditioning and heating systems, increased by 18% in May, compared to the same month last year. The report attributes the increase to the ongoing pandemic, which has led to an increase in the demand for cooling and heating systems.

68th Legislature approves various measures

68th Legislature has approved various measures. The main focus of the legislation was on education reform and budget issues. The new education policies aim to increase funding for schools, particularly in rural areas. The budget measures include cuts to non-essential services and an increase in state revenue through sales tax hikes. The legislation has faced strong opposition from some grassroots groups who argue that it does not address student needs. The bills are now awaiting the governor's signature.

U.M.W. meets

The United Mine Workers (U.M.W.) met last week to discuss ongoing issues in the coal mining industry. The meeting was held at the local union hall and was attended by several members from the area. The discussions included safety measures, worker rights, and the economic impact of the coal industry. The U.M.W. leaders emphasized the need for stronger advocacy for miners' rights and called for increased support from community members. The meeting ended with a commitment to continued activism and awareness-raising efforts.
Ag commissioner eyes brucellosis solution

Texas Commissioner of Agriculture Kenneth L. White has expressed his concern about a growing number of cases of brucellosis in Texas. White said the disease, which is caused by bacteria that affect cows, goats, and sheep, is a threat to the state's livestock industry. He added that the disease can also be transmitted to humans through contact with infected animals or their products. White has called for increased efforts to detect and control the disease in order to protect the state's economy and public health.
