Panola County Courthouse

As lawmen from throughout Texas keep a watchful eye on the standoff between rival groups in Deadwood, a man was arrested in the town Sunday.

The arrest came after a dispute over a piece of property led to gunfire that cut across the town. The shooting started when one group of men attempted to block the other group from entering a building.

According to the Panola County Sheriff's Office, the arrested man was charged with possession of a firearm in a public place. He was taken into custody and booked into the Panola County Jail.

Police say the arrest was made to ensure public safety and prevent further violence.

The standoff began last week when rival groups began to establish conflicting claims on a piece of property in the town.

Officials from the Panola County Sheriff's Office have been working to mediate the dispute, but the two groups continue to disagree over the property's ownership.

New program aimed at enforcing child support

Although enforcement of court orders is the responsibility of the agency that issued the order, the court is the only entity that can penalize a contempt of court. The court must issue a bench warrant, a contempt summons or other documents to enforce the order. This may lead to an arrest or a fine. The court can also seek to have a parent who refuses to pay their child support ordered to pay a fine. Bulldogs hit lull in workouts

For the first time since football practice began, Coach Bob Hood talked about the idea of the players being on the bench and not playing.

"The situation is a little different," Hood said. "The situation is a little different in that we have a lot of new players, and they need time to get into shape. They need to get their timing and their techniques down."

Hood said he plans to use a lot of the younger players in the games, giving them a chance to get some playing time. He also said he will use some of the players who have been on the bench for the past few weeks.

"It's a good thing," Hood said. "It gives them a chance to see what it's like to play in a real game."
Club finalizes plans for fete

Members of the Carriage Atlanta Bowmen Club from Raleigh will make plans for their upcoming tournament and the evening of festivities. The club will be holding a fundraiser for children in the local community. The tournament will include archery competitions and a social gathering. The fundraiser will be held on September 10th at the Raleigh Archery Range. The archery competition will start at 10 AM and the social gathering will follow after. The fundraiser will benefit local children's charities and will include a raffle and food. The event is open to the public and all proceeds will go towards helping children in need.

Fishing rodeo

September 10

The Carriage Atlanta Bowmen Club's third annual Fishing Rodeo will be held on September 10th. Contestants will compete in bass fishing. The competition will be held at Lake Martin, which is located just outside of Raleigh. The competition will be open to both members and non-members of the club. The competition will begin at 6:00 AM and will end at 3:00 PM. Prizes will be awarded to the top three anglers based on the total weight of fish caught. The competition is a great opportunity for fishing enthusiasts to test their skills and compete with each other.

Fishing report

September 10

The North Carolina Department of Natural Resources has issued a report on the fishing conditions in the state. The report indicates that bass fishing has been the most popular activity, with mild weather conditions contributing to the good fishing. The report also notes that the bass population has been stable, and fishing guides are encouraging anglers to continue to participate in the sport. The report recommends that anglers use the latest fishing techniques and equipment to increase their success rates. The report is available online and can be accessed by visiting the website of the North Carolina Department of Natural Resources.

Adjustment Board approves trailer permit

City of Raleigh Board of Adjustment has approved the issuance of a trailer permit for the construction of a new trailer park. The permit was requested by a local developer who plans to construct a new trailer park in the city. The decision was made after a public hearing and extensive review of the application. The trailer park will provide affordable housing for low-income families and will be located on a previously undeveloped site. The permit approval is a significant step towards the completion of the project and will help address the housing needs of the community.

TPWD authorizes several public hunts

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has authorized several public hunts for the upcoming season. The hunts include turkey, deer, and dove hunts. The hunts are designed to regulate the population of these species and ensure their sustainable management. The hunts will be held in various locations throughout the state, including the Texas Panhandle, the South Texas coast, and the Central Texas area. The hunts will start on September 1st and will last until the end of November. Anglers and hunters are encouraged to check the regulations and permits before participating in the hunts.

Statewide budget hike affects CISD

Team increases spending as bond funds shrink; $80 million in vault for public schools

The increase in state funding for public schools in Texas has led to a $80 million budget increase for the Carthage Independent School District (CISD). This is a significant increase compared to previous years and is due to higher state aid and other sources of revenue.

The increase in funding will allow for improvements in the schools, including new technology, updated facilities, and additional staff. It is hoped that these improvements will help to improve student outcomes and provide a better education for the students of Carthage.
