Editorial:

Animal control best answered by voting

Perhaps the best way to decide what the majority of people want is to make sure that the right people are voting. While it is the city manager's job to make recommendations, it is the responsibility of the city council to listen to the people and make decisions that are in the best interest of the community. However, it is not clear what level of understanding the city council has when it comes to what the people really want. The city council is responsible for making decisions that affect the lives of its residents, but it is not clear that they are paying enough attention to what the people really want.

Perhaps the city council should consider offering some incentive to encourage more people to vote. It is possible that a higher turnout could lead to a better representation of the people's wants and desires. The city council could also consider using other methods, such as holding town meetings or conducting surveys, to better understand what the people really want.

Surprise

Monday, August 8th, 1988: Chris Baker came to school with a surprise for his teacher, Mrs. Johnson. Chris Baker had been saving up his allowance to buy a special gift for his teacher. He had been saving for weeks, and finally had enough money to buy a beautiful flower arrangement. Mrs. Johnson was delighted with the gift and was very grateful to Chris Baker for his kindness. Chris Baker had done it all on his own, which made it extra special for her.
Cats prove exciting in first scrimmage

BEECHMONT - Coach John Austin got the first look at the Beechmont backfield under the new Thursday night lights. "We're excited, but not satisfied," he said after the 28-20 win over Newcomer. "The boys played well, and we'll need more of that." The Bears had over 300 yards in the game.

The Bears have a 5-0 defense with aofi ending, led by a quartet of linebackers: Mike Mays, Paul Williams, and Jimmie Brown. The Bears' offense was strong, led by the running of Mike Mays and the passing of Paul Williams. The Bears scored 28 points in the first quarter alone.

Second game head coach Jim Thompson

The scrimmage was one of three for Thompson, who led the Bears to a 28-20 win over Newcomer. The Bears had over 300 yards in the game.

The defense, run by Thompson, is going to be the key to the season, Thompson said. "We're not going to be held to one style of play," he said. "We're going to mix it up and play to our strengths." The Bears had a strong defense, led by the running of Mike Mays and the passing of Paul Williams. The Bears scored 28 points in the first quarter alone.

Fad diets unsound

By Patricia Cozby

A quick look at the latest diet fads reveals that many of them are unsound and can be harmful to health. Among the most popular fads are the no-carbohydrate diet and the raw food diet. These diets may seem appealing because they promise quick weight loss and improved health, but they can be dangerous. The no-carbohydrate diet is not recommended for anyone with diabetes or other health conditions. The raw food diet is not recommended for children or older adults. The best diet is one that is balanced and includes a variety of foods from all food groups.

Blackmer has been mowing lawns for over 10 years and has been well-received by her customers. She plans to expand her business in the future.

At CISD in-service...

Patrick O'Dooley motivates teachers with speech

The CISD in-service day featured a motivational speech by Patrick O'Dooley, a successful entrepreneur and motivational speaker. O'Dooley encouraged teachers to never give up, to always strive for excellence, and to believe in their abilities. He shared stories of his own success and struggles, and emphasized the importance of hard work, dedication, and perseverance. The teachers were inspired by his message and left the event feeling empowered.

At the Lion's Club meeting, O'Dooley was the keynote speaker. He shared his personal stories and experiences with the audience, encouraging them to never give up and to always strive for excellence. He concluded his speech with a call to action, asking the teachers to believe in their abilities and to never stop working towards their goals.

Marriage won't bleed you after August

The theme of the event was centered around the importance of perseverance and hard work in achieving success. Patrick O'Dooley shared his personal story of overcoming challenges and achieving his goals through hard work and dedication. The teachers were inspired by his words and left the event feeling motivated.
