City okays proposed budget, sets tax rate Monday

In Fort Oglethorpe, the new tax rate was approved as a result of the proposed budget being approved. The tax rate will go into effect next year. The new tax rate is 6.4 mills, which is the same as the current rate.

The city council approved the budget after several meetings and public hearings. The budget includes funding for various city departments, including police, fire, and public works. The city also plans to use the budget to address issues such as road repairs and maintenance, parks, and recreation.

The city council also approved a series of ordinances to address various issues, including parking permits, noise ordinances, and building codes.

Phone company slow on money for sidewalk

The phone company has been slow in paying for the sidewalk. The sidewalk was built several years ago, but the company has not paid for it. The city council is considering legal action to enforce payment.

The city council has expressed frustration with the company's delays. The sidewalk was built with city funds, and the council has been trying to get the company to pay for it.

Panola National directors elected

The board of directors for Panola National Bank elected new directors at their recent meeting. The new directors are John Smith, Jane Doe, and Michael Brown.

Since the last annual meeting, the bank has undergone several changes. The bank has expanded its services, added new employees, and opened a new branch. The bank has also implemented new technologies to improve customer service.

County may lose oil tax revenue

County Judge Frank Hall announced that the county may lose oil tax revenue. The state has proposed changes to the oil tax law, which could result in a decrease in oil tax revenue for the county.

The judge said that the changes could lead to a decrease of up to $1 million in oil tax revenue. The state has proposed that the oil tax be phased out over the next several years, which would result in a decrease in oil tax revenue for the county.

Galloway news...

Clogging

Saturday night, August 27, 1988, was a night to remember in Galloway. The town was buzzing with activity as it hosted its annual Clogging Festival. The festival featured clogging performances by local and national clogging teams, as well as a clogging competition.

The festival kicked off with a parade through the town, with clogging teams and floats decorated in clogging-themed designs. The parade was followed by a concert featuring clogging music and dance performances.

The clogging competition was held later in the evening, with teams vying for the top prize. The competition was intense, with teams performing intricate clogging routines to music.

Testimony begins in $6.5 million lawsuit trial

A new trial began in the $6.5 million lawsuit filed by Grinnell and Ringgold against the City of New York. The lawsuit was filed by the two towns, which claim they were defrauded by the city in the purchase of water rights.

Grinnell and Ringgold purchased water rights for use in their respective towns. They claim that the city, through its Water Department, misrepresented the value of the water rights and the terms of the sale. The towns allege that they were induced to enter into the agreement based on this misinformation.

The trial began Monday, with both sides presenting their opening arguments. The city has denied all allegations and is defending its actions. The trial is expected to last several weeks.

Drug probes continue

The New York Police Department has launched a new investigation into the distribution of illicit drugs in the city. The investigation, codenamed "Operation Clean Slate," is focused on bringing to justice those responsible for the sale and distribution of illegal drugs.

The probe is being led by Assistant District Attorney Eric D. Spence, who said in a statement, "This operation is aimed at disrupting the illegal drug trade in the city and ensuring the safety and security of our residents." Spence added that the investigation will target both local and international drug suppliers.

Cycle, bus accident injuries man

A man was injured in a bicycle accident and hit by a bus in the area. The accident occurred on the morning of July 15th, on a busy street in the downtown area. The man, who was riding his bike, was hit by a bus that was traveling in the opposite direction.

The man was taken to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. The bus driver was cited for failure to yield the right of way to the bicycle. The accident is under investigation by the police department.

BISD sets new tax rate

The Board of Directors for the Bastrop Independent School District (BISD) has approved a new tax rate for the 2023-2024 fiscal year. The new tax rate is $2.646 per $100 of assessed property value, an increase of 0.1 cents from the previous year.

The tax increase is necessary to support the district's budget and provide funding for upcoming projects, including the construction of a new elementary school. The district has also implemented a new budgeting process to ensure financial sustainability and reduce the burden on property owners.

Area arrests reported

The Bastrop County Sheriff's Office has arrested several individuals over the past week. The arrests include charges of assault, burglary, and drunk driving. The sheriff's office is committed to maintaining public safety and enforcing local laws.

The arrested individuals were charged with various offenses, including assault with intent to murder, burglary of a residence, and driving while intoxicated. The suspects were booked into the Bastrop County Jail, where they await their initial court appearances.

August weather conditions about average for county

While significant rainfall did occur in some regions of the county, overall rainfall for the month was below the 20-year average. The highest temperatures recorded in the county were during August, reaching 94 degrees on the 14th of August and on the 26th. The lowest temperatures reached 49 degrees on the 12th and the 14th.

The agricultural conditions were generally good, with the exception of some areas that received less rainfall than others. Crop yields were generally above average, with some regions experiencing a slight increase in yield due to the good rainfall.

Diabetes Round-Up slated September 17

The Northeast Texas Juvenile Diabetes Foundation is sponsoring the Diabetes Round-Up in conjunction with the 27th Annual Texas Parent Organization Regional Conference. The conference will include a seminar, seminars, and workshops on diabetes and related topics. The focus of the event is on diabetes education and support for families. The conference will be held on September 17, 2017. The event is open to all who are interested in learning more about diabetes and its management. For more information, contact the Northeast Texas Juvenile Diabetes Foundation at 903-753-1234.
Back in the saddle...
Michael North, 44, found the feeling of skies, 4-wheeled prairie and roadside stand-offs. He sits with his horse, Buckskin, and son, Greg, 11, at a campground in the Texas Panhandle. He is one of the Few Bar H Ranch Hand Cattle Company’s cowboys, who travel from Nebraska to Texas to work the herds. North left the ranch in March after a 20-year career in the U.S. Army.

For faculty sessions...
Beckville ISD schedules speaker
On Wednesday, the Beckville School Board will meet for a special meeting to discuss the possible sale of the old school building and the replacement of a new building. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the district office.
