Truck law under study

In Fort Chaffee, Carthage and other cities and towns throughout the state, the state has asked delivery drivers to report any violations of the truck laws. But some of the drivers say they are not sure what they are supposed to report or how to report it. One of the problems is that the laws are not clearly defined and vary from city to city. Drivers say they often get mixed messages from the police and not sure what they are supposed to do. The state has asked delivery drivers to report any violations of the truck laws. Beckville teacher leaders

The Beckville Independent School District Board of Trustees met Tuesday night in the school district's administration building to discuss the district's budget for the upcoming school year. The board is expected to vote on the budget at its next meeting. The district has been working on the budget for several months and has received input from the community and the school board. The budget is expected to be finalized in the coming weeks.

Construction on rise

According to the latest report from the state Department of Transportation, construction on rising highways and roads in the state is on the rise. The department has reported an increase in the number of projects and the amount of money being spent on construction. The increase is attributed to the state's economic recovery and the need to improve and expand the state's transportation infrastructure. Potlatch 4 Festival result of teamwork

The Potlatch 4 Festival was a week-long event that brought together a variety of local artists and performers. It was organized by a group of volunteers who worked tirelessly to make it a success. The festival was held in 1963 as a way to celebrate the community's achievements and to bring people together.

The success of the festival was the result of the hard work and dedication of the volunteers. They worked together as a team to ensure that everything ran smoothly.

The festival included a variety of events, such as music concerts, art exhibits, and cultural performances. It was a time for the community to come together and enjoy each other's company.

The festival was a huge success and helped to strengthen the bonds within the community. It was a reminder of the power of teamwork and the importance of working together to achieve a common goal.

Panola County Big Buck Contest announced

Special prizes will be awarded to the hunters bagging the biggest deer in the county in the new Panola County Big Buck Contest. The contest will run from October 1, 2023, through November 30, 2023. Hunters must submit their tagged deer to the Panola County Deeruggers Association within 48 hours of bagging. The contest will award cash prizes for the largest, heaviest, and heaviest non-typical deer, as well as other special categories. For more information, contact the Panola County Deeruggers Association at (903) 555-1212.

City elections redistricting proposal is rejected

City officials voted against a redistricting proposal that would redraw the city's council districts. The proposal, which was presented by the city's current council members, would have created four new districts, each with a population of approximately 5,000. The council rejected the proposal, citing concerns about the proposed boundaries and the impact on the current council members. The city's current council members will continue to serve in their current districts until the next election.

Buildings not on city tax rolls

Some buildings in the city of Panola were not included on the city's tax rolls. The city council is considering measures to ensure that all buildings are properly taxed. The council has been urged to take action to ensure that all buildings are included on the tax rolls, as this will help the city generate revenue. The council will consider the matter during its next meeting.

Board told teacher group no union

The Panola County School Board told the teacher group that it is not interested in forming a union. The group has been meeting with the board to discuss the possibility of forming a union, but the board has indicated that it is not interested in pursuing this option. The group has been advised to continue its discussions with other groups to explore other options.

'Jackets may find Sabine an easy mark

By Earl Chandley

ELYSIAN FIELDS - After a 3-0 record and an attic full of medals, the Yellowjackets of Elysian Fields are hungry for another season of success. The team, which has already won three games, is looking to continue their winning streak against Sabine High School. The Yellowjackets are led by quarterback Bruce Thompson, who has thrown for 340 yards and seven touchdowns this season. The defense, led by linebacker Tony Harris, has only allowed 12 points in three games.

Carthage jv, frost on road Thursday

The Carthage Junior-varsity football team is in the midst of a challenging season. With games against some of the top teams in the conference, the Jv's are determined to prove themselves. One of their biggest challenges this season will be to keep up with the speed and skill of their opponents. Coach George Johnson is focusing on teamwork and agility, believing that these qualities will be key to success. The Jv's schedule this season includes games against Carthage High School, Van High School, and Kilgore High School. With each game being crucial, the team is全力以赴 to bring their best to every match.

Tatum still controls its own destiny

ROCKPORT - Tatum has won two games in a row and is now eyeing a potential playoff berth. The team is led by quarterback Cody Martin, who has thrown for 670 yards and eight touchdowns this season. The defense, led by linebacker John Smith, has only allowed 10 points in two games.

Eagles' opponents

New Boston (10-2) Merced High School, 19-6

The Eagles are coming off a tough game against Mesquite High School, but they are looking to bounce back against New Boston. The Eagles will need to focus on their defense, as New Boston has a strong rushing attack led by running back Austin Taylor. The Eagles will also need to limit turnovers, as they have committed 11 turnovers in their last two games.
