Ruling shows DA, judge effective

News that the Court of Appeals in Texarkana has upheld the conviction and the sentence received by John W. Copeland, and that Justice of the Peace Raymond J. Baker was doing a good job, is a welcome development.

Several residents remember the 1987 trial of Baker, who was convicted of murdering his wife, and served 14 years in prison. The decision has been hailed as a victory for justice and for the community.

The court's ruling is a reminder that the legal system can work effectively to ensure that justice is served.

Joint efforts here should be priority

There is a strong need to develop a new strategy where we can work together to solve pressing problems in our community. People who live in the city can be a big help.

If we want to move forward, we need to talk about what we should do next. We should not just write things off as being impossible or too difficult. We need to be more imaginative and creative in our approach.

Talk-Line — Call 693-TALK

Homes

I'm talking about the new homes that are being built in the area. They're really nice, but they're also expensive. It's a good thing that we have a good economy to support this new growth.

I'm glad that we're creating jobs, but we also need to make sure that people have good homes to live in.

Inflatable

I need to talk about the inflatable bouncy house that was recently at the park. It was a lot of fun for the kids, but it was also a danger. People should be careful around these things.

Departments

This week's news includes a story about a new department that has been created in the city. It's a great addition to our community and I'm glad that we have it.

For the record

I'm a little concerned about the recent news about the city's budget. It seems like we're spending a lot of money, but I'm not sure where it's going.

I hope that the city can find a way to balance its budget and make sure that we're getting value for our money.

Ollie was the best

I just wanted to say that I'm really sad that Ollie has passed away. He was a great dog and he will be missed by everyone who knew him.

I hope that he's happy now and that he's not in any pain.

His concerns are particularly focused on the rise of deceptive advertising and the manipulation of consumer information. Church of Christ expansion to be complete by Christmas

By Dale Adams

The Church of Christ has made great strides in its expansion over the past year, with the completion of a new building on the west side of the city. The church has been growing steadily, and the new building will provide much-needed space for its members.

The project, which began last year, has been a major undertaking. A new fellowship hall, a new church office, and additional classrooms have been added to the new building. The original church building was built in 1955, and the new building will provide much-needed space for the church's growing members.

Addition parties are scheduled for the new building, including a grand opening celebration on December 1. The church is looking forward to the new building and the new opportunities it will provide.

The church is also looking forward to the completion of the new building on the east side of the city. The new building will include a new fellowship hall, a new church office, and additional classrooms. The new building is expected to be completed by next year.

Strength for Living

By Joe Johnson

Abraham Lincoln wrote in his diary, "I must be broader, broader, much broader than I was in the beginning of the conflict. I must stretch my good to all the world. I must be as broad as the world is wide."

And so we strive to be, to stretch our goodness to all, to be as broad as the world is wide. We strive to be as broad as the world is wide because we believe that if we are to be of service to the world, we must be as broad as the world is wide.

The world is wide, and we must stretch our goodness to all. We must be as broad as the world is wide. We must be as broad as the world is wide, and we must stretch our goodness to all.
