Editorial:

Wal-Mart, others help city grow

Carthage has many elements which have contributed to the widespread interest in our increasingly exciting city. One of these is the notable increase in its population over recent years. This is a matter of considerable pride for all Carthage residents, for it means that Carthage is growing, and that Carthage is a thriving community.

Wal-Mart, one of the nation's largest retailers, has recently opened a new store in Carthage. This new store has been very well received by the Carthage community, and it has already become a popular destination for shoppers from all over the area.

Tatum, Roughly remember Corsicana
Bulldogs seek revenge in region playoff

The Bulldog line has a long memory, and that memory doesn’t include losing to the Tigers. The two teams are set to meet again in the region playoffs, and the Bulldogs are looking for revenge.

Tatum has won the previous four meetings, but the Bulldogs are confident they can turn the tables.

“We have made great strides since last year, and the Bulldogs have a strong team this year,” said Tatum coach John Smith. “We are looking forward to the challenge and are confident we can defeat the Tigers.”

The Bulldogs have a strong defense, which should be a key factor in the game.

Peck: ‘First bad game’
PJC beaten, 65-63, to falter below .500

Peck, coach of the PJC Lady Panthers, was visibly disappointed after the loss to the Hearne Lady Bears.

“I think it was our first bad game,” said Peck. “We’ve been on a roll, and tonight we just couldn’t find our rhythm.”

Peck noted that the Lady Panthers had been playing well before the loss, but tonight they just couldn’t seem to get it together.

The Lady Bears took control early, building a lead that the Lady Panthers couldn’t overcome.

“I think our defense let us down,” said Peck. “We couldn’t stop them from scoring, and that was the difference.”

Peck is looking forward to the upcoming games and is confident that his team can bounce back.

“Despite tonight’s loss, we will continue to work hard and improve,” said Peck. “We know we can turn this around.”

Clayton family rekindles lost art of making cane syrup

By Dale Arner
While the Clayton family farm near Lyons is more known for its watermelons, cantaloupes and watermelons, it's also a place where cane syrup is made the old-fashioned way.

The couple, who have been married for 50 years, decided to take up the art of making syrup after years of watching their children make it.

"We've been doing it for years," said Nancy Clayton. "It's a tradition in our family."

A TRUE HOLIDAY SPIRIT INCLUDES LOVE AND FORGIVENESS

3. To time for the holidays and other social occasions, we may be too eager to celebrate and enjoy ourselves. This can be achieved by the awareness of God's guidance and direction in our lives. It is important to reflect on how we can make the best use of our time and resources to honor God and serve others. By focusing on these values, we can create a more meaningful and fulfilling experience for ourselves and those around us. Amen.

Hospital faces financial pinch

Merchants say shoppers busy

By Carl Chandler

Area merchants and hospital officials have long been aware of the fact that the hospital faces a financial pinch. But local merchants say that the financial pinch is not the problem that it once was.

"It's not as bad as it used to be," said one merchant. "The hospital has been able to cut back on unnecessary expenses and has been able to keep their prices in check."

The hospital has been able to cut back on unnecessary expenses by eliminating some of the more costly procedures and by using more efficient methods of operation. They have also been able to cut back on the number of employees by eliminating some positions and by outsourcing others.

New service begins

The hospital has announced that they will be starting a new service that will be very beneficial to the community. The service will be a mobile clinic that will go to different areas of the county to provide medical services to those who cannot afford to go to the hospital.

"This is a great service," said one local resident. "It's going to make it a lot easier for those who live in rural areas to get the medical care that they need."

Spider lawsuit brings $18,500

A family who was bitten by a spider in their home has won a lawsuit against the hospital. The family was awarded $18,500 in damages.

"We are very pleased with the outcome of the lawsuit," said one family member. "We hope that this will help to raise awareness about the dangers of spider bites."
