Proposal accepted by city, county for project

San Antonio

Byron Leek

A proposal submitted by the City of San Antonio and Bexar County, which calls for the creation of a new convention center in the downtown area, has been approved by both entities.

The agreement, which was presented to the San Antonio City Council and Bexar County Commissioners Court on Monday, outlines the terms and conditions for the development of the new facility.

The convention center will be located on Alamo Plaza and is expected to be completed in 2024. The facility will feature more than 200,000 square feet of meeting space, as well as a 2,000-seat arena.

The city and county will jointly finance the $500 million project through a combination of bond financing and private investment. The city will provide $300 million, while Bexar County will contribute $200 million.

The project is expected to create approximately 2,000 jobs during construction and an additional 500 permanent jobs once the facility is operational.

Senior Nutrition driver injured in U.S. 79 wreck

San Antonio

Byron Leek

A Senior Nutrition driver was injured in a single-vehicle accident on U.S. 79 on Monday afternoon.

According to the Bexar County Sheriff's Office, the driver was traveling on U.S. 79 near the intersection with Loop 1604 when the accident occurred.

The driver was transported to University Hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in the crash.

The cause of the accident is currently under investigation.

Area scouters recognized during annual banquet

Lubbock, Texas

Byron Leek

The Lubbock Council of Boy Scouts of America recognized several local scout leaders during its annual banquet earlier this month.

The banquet, held at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel in Lubbock, featured a keynote speech by former Scoutmaster General Ralph E. Buckner Jr., who spoke about the importance of scouting and the role it plays in the lives of young people.

Several awards were presented during the event, including the Silver Beaver Award, which is the highest honor given by the Boy Scouts of America.

The banquet also featured a silent auction and a raffle, with proceeds benefiting the Lubbock Council's various programs and activities.

Yuletime

Byron Leek

The Yuletime Committee presented a variety of awards and honors during its annual banquet earlier this month.

According to committee members, the event was attended by more than 100 people, who gathered to celebrate the holiday season and recognize the contributions of local businesses and organizations.

The committee presented several awards, including the Best Christmas Light Displays Award, which was given to the H-E-B supermarket in Carthage.

Other awards included the Best Window Display Award, which was given to the Bank of Carthage, and the Best Christmas Tree Award, which was given to the Carthage Chamber of Commerce.

The committee also presented several scholarships to local students, who were recognized for their academic achievements.

Holiday dinner hosted

Byron Leek

The Yuletime Committee held its annual Christmas dinner earlier this month at the Masonic Temple in Carthage.

The event featured a variety of traditional holiday dishes, including Turkey, Stuffing, Mashed Potatoes, and Cranberry Sauce.

Other dishes included Green Beans, Corn, and Deviled Eggs, as well as a selection of desserts.

The dinner was attended by more than 200 people, who enjoyed the festive atmosphere and the delicious food.

The Yuletime Committee is a non-profit organization that works to promote the holiday spirit in Carthage and surrounding areas.

For more information about the committee and its events, visit their website at yuletimecarthage.com.
Bouncing button shatters dinner’s golden silence

The second thing I did wrong was to bring the wrong size dinner plate to the Christmas dinner at a local church. I think I was the only one who thought it was wrong. It made my guests look like they were in a hurry to get out of there.

The third thing I did wrong was to forget to put the button back on the shirt. It made my guests look even more awkward. I was embarrassed when I realized what I had done.

The fourth thing I did wrong was to leave the button on the floor. It made my guests look like they were trying to avoid eye contact with me.

The fifth thing I did wrong was to forget to wash my hands after handling the button. It made my guests look like they were trying to distance themselves from me.

The sixth thing I did wrong was to forget to put the button back on the shirt. It made my guests look like they were trying to avoid eye contact with me.

With the end of the season, the bulldogs found themselves in a familiar position: a loss and a one-and-done in the playoffs. The team was not able to advance past the first round, ending their season with a 7-3 record. The Bulldogs were hopeful of turning things around next year, but for now, they must focus on the lessons learned from this year's campaign.

Commissioners postpone action

Constable pay unchanged

As Wilfrid Correa, the newly elected constable, has been the topic of discussion among local residents and officials, the issue of his pay has been brought to the forefront. The current constable, who is also a member of the County Commissioners Court, has expressed his concern about the lack of transparency in the decision-making process. In a recent meeting, it was decided that the current constable's pay will remain unchanged.

Self defense course develops confidence

Self defense...art of life. The skills that make the difference, hands-on training, no matter what size of person you are, the techniques used in the self defense course can be effective for all. According to local instructor Dane LeJeune, it is a course that anyone can benefit from. Students in the course have included those who are involved in sports, those who are not, and those of all ages. The course is held at Carthage Twin Cinema, and once a month there is a new session. Most of the students are not involved in any type of sports, but they are learning how to protect themselves. The course has a self-defense and stress relief component. It is a great way to get in shape, make new friends, and have a good time. The course is open to anyone who is interested. It is a very effective way to learn self defense, and I highly recommend it to anyone who wants to learn how to protect themselves.
