Beckville principal to retire

By Patti Octons

Despite Beckville's long history of excellence in education, the school's principal, John Bristow, will retire at the end of the school year.

Although Bristow has continued to lead the school for over 20 years, he feels it is time to pass the baton to a new leader.

“Retirement is bittersweet,” said Bristow. “I’ve enjoyed working at Beckville, but it’s time for me to move on. I’m sure the district will find an excellent new leader to take over.”

Local chamber helps more ways than one

By E.C. Come, E.C. Co.

The local chamber of commerce will not only help you buy a house, it can also help you buy a boat, a car, or a plane. The local chamber of commerce is a group of business people who work together to make the local economy grow and prosper. They do this by promoting local businesses, by providing a place for local businesses to meet and discuss issues, and by providing a forum for local businesses to voice their concerns.

City acts on varied business

Carriage City Commissioners on Monday adopted a resolution to have city offices renumbered. The resolution, which was approved by the commission, will result in the renumbering of the city’s buildings and offices. The new numbering system will be implemented over the next few months. The renumbering is expected to improve the efficiency of city operations and provide a more organized structure for visitors and employees.

Property news now acquired

New properties are coming to the Carriage City area. The city has purchased a number of properties for development, including a vacant lot near the city center. The properties will be developed into new office buildings and commercial spaces. The city has also purchased a large parcel of land for future development.

Zoning commission declines park request

In a unanimous vote, the Carriage City Zoning Commission refused to grant a request for a new park. The request was made by a local developer who wanted to build a park on a piece of land near the city center. The commission cited concerns about the impact of the park on traffic and safety as reasons for the refusal.

Gary girls take outright crown with big assist from Beckville

Gary girls basketball coach Robert Williams and the Gary girls basketball team have earned a No. 1 ranking in the latest 8-AAA standings.

The Gary girls earned the top ranking in the 8-AAA standings thanks to their 39-37 win over Carthage last week. The Gary girls under the leadership of Williams and his assistant coaches have compiled a record of 12-1 and are currently in the thick of the 8-AAA conference race.

Gary's 39-37 win over Carthage on Thursday night was a key victory in their quest for the conference championship. The Gary girls' defense was solid in that game, holding Carthage to just 37 points.

Williams, who has been coaching for 15 years, said the Gary girls' success this season is due to a combination of hard work, dedication, and good luck.

Gary eighth takes Mt. Enterprise

Gary eighth graders took a close 20-point lead in the first quarter and mounted a 20-point lead in the second quarter, eventually winning the game 44-34 against Mt. Enterprise.

The Gary eighth graders, led by their star players Alex and John, demonstrated a strong performance throughout the game, showing excellent teamwork and a solid defense.

THEN... IT'S TOO LATE

Why is it?

A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping on an advertised bed, in advertised pajamas. He will bathe in an advertised tub, wash with advertised soap, shave with an advertised razor, have a breakfast of advertised juice, cereal and toast (toasted in an advertised toaster), put on advertised clothes and glance at his advertised watch.

He will ride to work in an advertised car, sit at an advertised desk, smoke advertised cigars and write with an advertised pen.

Yet this man hesitates to advertise, saying that advertising does not pay.

Finally, when his unadvertised business goes under, he will advertise it for sale.
