Rainstorms bring dry season up to par on averages

By Bill Chandler
Panola County Post

In the Panola County Post, Bill Chandler writes about the effects of rainstorms on the dry season. He mentions that rain during a 24-hour period reached 1.18 inches recorded in 1966, which was considered good. He also notes that rainfall during a 24-hour period in 1967 reached 1.08 inches. Chandler emphasizes the importance of the rainstorms, which helped bring the dry season up to par.

Ranchers may collect tax

An article by Bill Chandler in the Panola County Post discusses ranchers' ability to collect tax. Chandler explains that ranchers could collect tax if they don't live more than three miles from their ranch. He also mentions that there is a new trend of tax collection where ranchers are paying taxes on their property even though they may not own it.

Positive approach good for hospital

It’s good to see the hospital board and county council working together on this. It’s important that we all work together to make sure our hospital is successful.

Although the stewards of our community are often called upon to make tough decisions, the fact remains that we are all in this together. We need to work together to find solutions that benefit everyone.

Editorial:

Taxes are not an eternal fountain

Despite the fact that many Americans have grown used to the idea of taxes being a necessary evil, I believe that there are better ways to fund our government.

I’m interested in exploring new ways to fund our programs and services, and I believe that there are better ways to do it.

Hospital board approves facility improvements

The board of managers for both the Holly Hill General Hospital and Panda Health Management approved facility improvements at the March meeting.

The board took two major steps, including approving the sale of the Harvest Inn properties to Flowering Spring Inn to provide additional funding for hospital improvements. This agreement will provide an estimated $20 million in revenue over a five-year period.

The second action was the approval of a new $10 million bond issue to fund improvements to the hospital facilities. The bond issue will be used to upgrade various areas of the hospital, including the emergency room, patient rooms, and surgical facilities.
