Some school board trustees were listening

The majority of the Carthage school board showed little interest in a discussion of this new approach, which was proposed by a local parent group. However, the discussion did lead to some constructive ideas that might be considered in the future.

Following the meeting, several of those present expressed interest in continuing the discussion. They suggested that a more detailed explanation of the new approach be presented at the next regular meeting. The public was also encouraged to participate in the discussion. A tentative date for the next meeting was set for the following week.

Carthage bombards Chapel Hill by 22-11

Because Chapel Hill's basketball had it cutler moments, the Panthers were thought to have a chance to upset Carthage.

But Carthage, which entered the game as the top seed in the state, had other ideas. The Panthers were no match for Carthage, which won the game 72-31.

Chapel Hill's defense was unable to stop Carthage's offense, which was led by guard John Smith. Smith scored 18 points and made 6 of 8 shots from outside.

Carthage's defense was also strong, holding Chapel Hill to just 31 points. Chapel Hill's best player was guard John Doe, who scored 11 points.

In another playoff game, Carthage defeated East Carolina 57-42. Carthage's guard John Smith scored 25 points and made 5 of 7 shots from outside.

Carthage will face Tuscaloosa in the state finals. Tuscaloosa defeated Carthage 63-58 in the quarterfinals.

Carthage forward John Smith will be the key to the Carthage offense. Smith scored 18 points in the Carthage-East Carolina game.

In the other semifinal, Carthage defeated Tuscaloosa 57-42. Carthage's guard John Doe scored 15 points and made 5 of 7 shots from outside.

Carthage will face Tuscaloosa in the state finals. Tuscaloosa defeated Carthage 63-58 in the quarterfinals.

Programs outlined to CISD Board

By Mike Groves

During the regular meeting of the College Station Independent School District school board, markers of the district's programs and activities were showcased.

Under the direction of Assistant Superintendent for Instructional and Performance Excellence, Dr. Mike Groves presented an overview of the CISD's new programs and initiatives. He highlighted the importance of aligning these programs with the goals of the school district to ensure educational excellence and student success.

The board heard about the latest initiatives in the area of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), with a focus on hands-on learning and innovative teaching methods. The board was informed about the new curriculum being introduced for grades K-12, which emphasizes critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

Dr. Groves also discussed the district's efforts to enhance career and technical education, with a focus on providing students with practical skills that will be valuable in the workforce. The board was informed about the new programs in areas such as cybersecurity, hospitality, and construction.

The CISD's commitment to professional development for its teachers and administrators was also discussed. The district is investing in programs that support teacher growth and leadership development, with a focus on creating a culture of continuous improvement.

The board displayed excitement about the district's initiatives and was encouraged by the progress being made in these areas. The board is expected to vote on the new programs and initiatives at the next meeting, which will be held in two weeks.

Scholarship foundation donation

The Scholarship Foundation of College Station recently received a donation of $5,000 from the Board of Directors of the College Station ISD Foundation. The funds will be used to support scholarships for students who are pursuing higher education. The scholarship foundation is committed to providing financial assistance to deserving students who may not have access to other sources of funding.

Beckville honor roll

Beckville High School students were honored on a recent day in a special assembly held in the school's auditorium. The students were recognized for their academic achievements and contributions to the school community. The assembly was attended by both students and faculty members, who were all present to celebrate the accomplishments of their peers.

In the past month, Beckville High School has received several awards and recognitions for its remarkable academic achievements. The school has been awarded several grants for innovative programs and initiatives, which will help to further enhance the educational experience of the students.

The school has also embarked on a new initiative to promote community involvement and service learning. The initiative has already seen students participating in various community service projects, which will help to develop their leadership and teamwork skills.

The school administration is proud of the students' accomplishments and is committed to providing a supportive and enriching educational environment. The school is looking forward to continued success and is excited about the future of its students.
