Editorial:
County salaries should match industrial levels

There is nothing wrong with the county and city offering to pay higher salaries to county employees. It's a reminder that the pay scales of employees in the public sector, particularly in higher positions, are at a critical level. The effectiveness of our local government is dependent upon lower- and mid-level employees being adequately compensated.

We are seeing rising costs in the cost of living in our area. We are also seeing an increasing number of our citizens accepting positions in the private sector, which pays higher salaries. Our local government must compete for a qualified workforce. The following is just one of the many areas where we must carefully consider our own pay scales.

PJC fire damage estimates possible $50,000

The Red Cross has estimated that the fire damage at the Panola County Jail will cost $50,000. This is just the beginning as we begin to look at the costs of the additional security and additional personnel. We must work together to ensure that our citizens are protected.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

The fire damage at the Panola County Jail is a reminder of the need for better fire safety measures in our county. We need to ensure that our citizens are protected and that our jail is safe.

OIL NEWS

Fire production continues with a steady stream of oil and gas

In the year 2000, the annual oil production was 1.5 million barrels of oil, but in the year 2001, it was 1.2 million barrels of oil. We need to ensure that our oil and gas industry continues to produce and that we have a steady supply of oil and gas.

Duck hunters face bleak season

Ducks hunting is facing a bleak season in 1987 as a result of a shortage of duck hunting due to the continued drought conditions. The duck hunting season is scheduled to open on September 15, but the low water levels are expected to limit the number of hunting opportunities. The low water levels are also expected to have an impact on the waterfowl population, which is expected to be lower than in previous years.

Murval survey excellent

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists John Sherrill and Royce Zuckerman recently completed a survey of the Murval area, which is part of the Panola Mountain State Park. The survey was conducted to determine the number of murvals in the area and to assess their habitat needs. The results of the survey suggest that the murval population in the Murval area is doing well, with a healthy number of mature and young individuals. The biologists also noted that the area's vegetation provides an excellent habitat for the murval.

FAITH COMMENDS THE PEACEFUL COMPETITION OF THE OLYMPICS

Noisy everyone in the civilized world is aware of the coming Olympic games which will begin in Los Angeles this fall, but there is a reason for the event which may excite some of us in the excitement of the moment. A shirt with a little color of red and yellow will bring a smile to the faces of the multitudes who will wear it in the celebration. The athletes compete for medals in the driving heat, the track and the field, as they compete in the olympics, another place. All this should mean some of you to enjoy the games as you do.

These merchants urge you to attend the chosen house of worship this Sunday!!

Strength For Living

The news moving from the city has been what is being done by the Methodist United Methodist Church. They have been active in the community and have been helping the community.

For Rockhill-Muravil Methodist circuit

The main character, fired of his job, left the Venango County to find another job. He went to a nearby town and was hired by a new employer. He was very happy and started working hard. The main character was able to save some money and decided to move to a new city.

First Things First

Clowers appears at Longview crusade

The incident caused me to reflect on how good and kind people can be. I also think about how important it is to be kind and helpful to others.

The Upper Room

The issue of global warming is a major concern for our planet. There are many efforts being made to combat it, and one such effort is being led by a group of young people in our community.

Clowers, who had worked at Good Food for 5 years, was recently fired. He had been working hard for the company and was a valued member of the team. As a lay speaker he responds to such questions for the church. He was a former teacher at the church and had never been a member of the Christian Service Board. A lay speaker is a member of the church who acts as a representative of the church in a variety of roles. They may give talks, lead discussions, or assist in the worship services. When Laster’s air conditioner failed, he didn’t lose his cool; he got at the facts. Before he bought his replacement, he learned that a heat pump would cost in the summer and heat in winter for year round savings. He also found out that air conditioners and heat pumps with high S.E.E.R. ratings would save even more energy - and money.

If your air conditioner fails, call your dealer and get all the facts about next year’s energy-efficient air conditioners and heat pumps.
