Lease adds life to project

Proposed new facility will house workshop, regional health center

Carthage City Commissioners authorized a lease agreement Monday night granting a private company the use of a vacant building in Carthage City to house a workshop, regional health center.

The city's attorney, Robert A. Reid, made the report to the Board, stating that the commission had been approached by an out-of-state company, which offered to lease the building for a certain period of time.

The company, which is known for its work in the field of dioxin contamination, agreed to lease the building for a period of one year, with an option to renew for another year.

The company would be responsible for all repairs and maintenance of the building, and the city would receive a fixed sum for the lease agreement.

The city would benefit from the lease agreement, as it would have additional income, and the company would have a place to conduct its work.

Carthage teacher dies

Leftwich services conducted Monday

Evelina Leftwich, 87, a former teacher at Carthage High School, died Friday, November 10, 1984.

She was a 1924 graduate of Carthage High School and attended East Texas State University, where she received her teaching certificate.

She taught at Carthage High School for 37 years, retiring in 1961.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Joe Leftwich, and is survived by her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Bell, Carthage; and son, J. W. Leftwich, Carthage; and four grandchildren.

Pamela West, the manager of the Panola Watchman, said that Leftwich was a dedicated teacher who always put her students first.

She was known for her kindness and dedication to her students, and was highly respected by her colleagues.

Leftwich's services were held Monday at the First United Methodist Church in Carthage, and were conducted by the Rev. E. J. Dashiell, pastor of the church.

Fire raged through this desolate lumber company Friday evening

Lightning blamed in blaze

A full-scale fire consumed a large section of a lumber company Friday evening, leaving the factory in ruins.

The fire, which started in the warehouse area, quickly spread to the surrounding buildings, causing extensive damage.

The cause of the fire is being investigated, but authorities believe it was caused by lightning.

The lumber company, which specializes in the production of forest products, was located on the outskirts of Carthage.

Although the cause is still under investigation, the company is planning to rebuild as quickly as possible, and is seeking insurance claims to cover the losses.

Are 23 voting boxes too many for county?

Just about every time there is a General Election in Panola County the same discussion comes up over the number of voting boxes that have to be counted.

There are two schools of thought over the concept of the number of voting boxes.

One school believes that the more boxes that are open the better and the medians where they are are well maintained. There is usually a 24-hour period before the counting begins.

The other school believes that the fewer boxes that are open the better and the medians where they are are well maintained. There is usually a 24-hour period before the counting begins.

The former group feels that the more boxes that are open the better and the medians where they are are well maintained. There is usually a 24-hour period before the counting begins.

City zoning map to be charged

By Fred Chandler

A members of the Board of Commissioners has introduced a resolution calling for a public hearing to discuss the adoption of a new city zoning map. The resolution was introduced by Commissioner Tom Green and seconded by Commissioner Jane Smith.

The proposed map would include new zoning districts and would be used to regulate the use of land within the city limits. The map would be presented to the public for review and comments prior to its adoption.

The proposed map includes several new districts, including a "residential" district and a "commercial" district. The new districts would replace the existing "mixed-use" district.

The proposed map would also include new rules and regulations for each of the new districts. These rules would be aimed at ensuring that the land use within each district is consistent with the goals and objectives of the city.

The resolution was passed unanimously by the Board of Commissioners and will be considered at a public hearing scheduled for next month.

On the other hand, the Mount Pleasant Bulldogs will be looking to continue their winning streak. The team has been playing well throughout the season and is looking to secure a playoff berth.

The game will be held at the Plainview High School Stadium and is expected to be a close one. The Tigers will be hoping for a strong performance from their offense, while the Bulldogs will be looking for a strong defensive effort.

Both teams will be looking to make a statement in this final regular season game. The winner will move on to the playoffs, while the loser will be out of the running.

Carthage head football coach Stoney Hebert said they would have to get in the game and move the ball in order to score.

"Just because we didn't score doesn't mean we didn't try," Hebert said. "We had some chances, but we couldn't come through when we needed to." Hebert said the team would have to focus on improving their offensive game and working on special teams.
