FOR SALE

This is Galloway night, Nov. 15, 1989, and Galloway News is in the process of being written. It always begins with the same words: "The town where they have the best walnuts in the world..."

But tonight, the words are different. Because tonight, the walnuts are gone. The town is quiet. The streets are empty. No one is out. The only sounds are the wind and the silence.

It is a strange feeling. To be where you live, and yet not be able to see it. To know that what you see is not real. To know that you are not here.

It is a strange feeling. But also a familiar one. For this is the town where they have the best walnuts in the world. And even though they are gone, they will return. They will always return.

End of story.

Beckville gets second victory in state tournament

In the state tournament game on Saturday, Beckville defeated Decatur in the semi-final round, 52-47. Beckville came out on top in the second half, scoring 29 points to 13 for Decatur. The game was played in the Beckville gymnasium, with a capacity of 1,500 spectators. The crowd was on their feet the entire game, cheering for both teams. The final score was 52-47, with Beckville emerging victorious. The game was closely contested, with both teams putting up a strong fight. However, Beckville's defense held Decatur to just 13 points in the second half, which proved to be the difference in the game. The next round for Beckville will be against a team from Eastern Texas. The game will be held on Tuesday, with kickoff at 7:30 PM.

Deppe continues family Naval tradition

By Jeff Smith

Panola County native and retired Navy Capt. Julian Deppe has always had a love for the sea. The Navy's topmost rank has been where Deppe's heart has been for over 30 years. Deppe is one of the last Naval officers to have risen through the ranks to achieve the top position of admiral. Deppe's family has a long tradition of service to the Navy, starting with his father, who served during World War II.

And today, despite controversy over the U.S. military's use of non-combatant civilians in combat zones, Deppe remains a staunch advocate for the importance of military service. "The Navy is my life," Deppe said. "I've been part of the Navy for over 30 years, and I've never been happier."

Cruise trip will make education fun

College plans travelling course to Mexico in March

Panola Junior College will host a hands-on, participatory course to Mexico in March. The trip is open to all students and will focus on cultural and educational aspects of the country. According to PJC's director of international studies, the trip is designed to provide students with a unique learning experience.

The trip will include visits to Mexico City, Puebla, and other cultural and historic sites. Students will participate in hands-on activities such as cooking traditional Mexican cuisine, learning the language, and exploring local culture.

The trip is open to all students and there are still spaces available. Interested students should contact the PJC International Office for more information.

On Sunday, March 17, the students will board the college's chartered bus and travel to Mexico City. The trip will include visits to the National Museum of Anthropology, the Palacio de Bellas Artes, and the famous Coyoacan district. The trip will also include a visit to the Mayan ruins at Chichen Itza.

On Tuesday, March 19, the students will visit the city of Puebla, known for its colorful streets and historic architecture. The trip will include a visit to the famous Mission San Miguel Arcangel and the Palacio del Marques de la Patria. The trip will also include a visit to the nearby town of Atotonilco and a visit to the famous Cerro del Chiquihuite.

On Thursday, March 21, the students will visit the city of Morelia, known for its beautiful colonial architecture and the famous Cathedral of Our Lady of Guadalupe. The trip will also include a visit to the nearby town of Uruapan and a visit to the famous Zocalo Square.

On Saturday, March 23, the students will visit the city of Oaxaca, known for its vibrant culture and traditional cuisine. The trip will include visits to the famous Templo de Xico and the National Museum of the American Indian. The trip will also include a visit to the nearby town of Mitla and a visit to the famous Parque de la Plaza.

The trip is open to all students and there are still spaces available. Interested students should contact the PJC International Office for more information. All students must be approved by the trip director before being allowed to participate. The trip is open to all students and there are still spaces available. CISD considers varied items

At Tuesday's meeting

CISD Independent School District governing board met Monday evening to consider several items. The board took action on Policy Update 9, adopted a new policy, and reviewed the agenda for the TSCISD Legislative Council meeting this week.

Policy Update 9, which includes changes to the district's attendance policy, was approved. The new policy, Policy 2410, is effective immediately and replaces the previous policy, Policy 2411. The new policy includes changes to the definitions of attendance and tardiness, as well as new procedures for handling attendance issues.

The board also considered a new policy, Policy 3410, which outlines the district's procedures for handling student discipline. The policy includes procedures for referral to the district's Student Discipline Committee, as well as procedures for addressing student misconduct.

The board reviewed the agenda for the TSCISD Legislative Council meeting this week, which will focus on issues related to finance, personnel, and curriculum. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Monday, January 16, at the district's administration building.
