Texas Utilities terminates labor contract

By Tony Gage
Texas Utilities announced last week that it would terminate its labor contract with the Texas Employees Union (TEU) starting in 1984. The move comes after the two sides failed to reach an agreement on a new contract during negotiations that lasted for months.

The new contract would have expired in 1984, but the two sides were unable to agree on terms. Texas Utilities said that it had offered a number of improvements to its current contract, but the TEU had demanded even more.

"We're not going to make any more concessions," said Tom Peters, vice president of human resources for Texas Utilities. "We've been very generous with our offers, but the TEU just won't accept anything."

The TEU had accused Texas Utilities of failing to make any improvements to its current contract. The union said that it had offered a new contract that would have included higher wages, better benefits, and improved working conditions.

"We have been working very hard to negotiate a new contract," said John Miller, president of the TEU. "But Texas Utilities just won't budge. They're not interested in making our members' lives better."

The termination of the contract means that Texas Utilities and the TEU will have to negotiate a new contract from scratch. The union has already filed for mediation, and it is possible that the two sides will go to court to resolve their differences.

"We're going to fight for a fair contract," said Miller. "Our members deserve better than this."

Santa says sorority visit was lot of fun

By Bob Chandler
A number of members of the Phi Mu Alpha sorority for Sorority held a Christmas get-together last week in the lake area.

The sorority girls met at the Turtle Creek Inn and enjoyed a meal before heading to the Cracker Barrel where they exchanged gifts.

Sorority president said the purpose of the trip was to bring the girls together and to celebrate the holiday season.

Once all the gifts were exchanged the group decided to go out to dinner instead of returning to Sorority for the night.

A few hours later the group walked into the Cracker Barrel with Christmas lights flashing on their heads and said they had a fun time.

Congress tries papering tax loopholes

By Alex Miller
Papering tax loopholes is on the agenda for Congress this year.

The House Ways and Means Committee said it would focus on closing some of the most popular loopholes in the tax code.

Some of the proposed changes would include increasing the tax on high-income earners, raising the cap on the mortgage interest deduction, and eliminating the tax exemption for capital gains on some investments.

The Senate Finance Committee is also expected to take up tax legislation this year.
