Strength For Living

By Rabbi Dr. Israel Gershon

Stress can come from many directions: personal, financial, emotional. It can be overwhelming to try to balance it all. But there is strength to be found in each of us.

As we navigate through life's challenges, remember the words of the Rabbi Shlomo Carlebach: "The most important thing is to have faith. And the most important thing is to have faith in faith."

Let us find our strength in the support of our faith communities and in the wisdom of our religious leaders.

By Rabbi Dr. Israel Gershon

"And when he had called out his disciples together, he took bread and blessed it and broke it, and gave it to the disciples, and said: Take, eat; this is my body..." - Luke 22:19

In this Upper Room story, Jesus shared the bread and the cup as symbols of his sacrifice. May we find strength in these symbolic acts of love and compassion.

First Things First

By Rabbi Dr. Israel Gershon

"For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." - Matthew 18:20

Let us gather together in the name of our faith, finding strength in the company of others who share our beliefs. Together, we can overcome any obstacle.

The City of Paloma has approved a new, streamlined grievance procedure, which was described as an "improvement" by City Manager Charles Thomas. The new procedure, established in accordance with the recent approval of the procedure by the Paloma City Council, is intended to provide a more efficient and effective means of resolving employee grievances.

The procedure includes a two-step process: a review by the City Manager and a hearing before a three-member grievance board. The City Manager will first review the grievance and make a recommendation to the grievance board, which will then hear the case and make a decision.

Thomas explained that the new procedure is designed to provide a more efficient and effective means of resolving employee grievances, while also ensuring that the process is fair and impartial.
