Snow, ice freezes traffic county-wide

By Shirley Anderson

Despite the potentially tricky conditions, highway conditions Thrusday and Friday were better than anticipated and emergency groups reported accidents have been relatively light.

But there isn't a day going to mean traffic conditions can be taken for granted.

If the county's residents are almost balanced during the early morning hours with only those who absolutely, positively had to be out risking the chance. Officials said the light traffic conditions are probably due to the traditional rush of calls for assistance that began. By the mid-day Friday and no much noise in the county.

Six techs
Whistles get Dogs’ frosch

CENTRE — Coach Bill Peters drew up a technical foul, but calling the game was referee Gene LeMieux. Peters got three technicals in the game. It was the first time in 19 years that a Centre player was called for three techs in a game.

Jerald L. Perry, a senior, was issued his first technical of the season. The second was called on junior forward Fred Robinson, and the third on junior guard Leon Ford. Ford was called for a technical after a foul.

Perry, who had 16 points, said it was the first time he had ever been called for a technical.

"It was a technical foul, and I’m not sure what I did wrong," he said.

The Bulldogs, who had 11 technical fouls, lost to Centre 102-87.

Superstitious coach feeling pressure from home

When State fans visited University of North Carolina campus, they had to leave the gym without seeing the finish of the game. UNC was leading 78-38 at halftime, and the fans left in their seats.

"I don’t know what the fans were thinking," said UNC coach Dean Smith.

"They were probably thinking that they had left the game too early," he added.

The fans, who had been watching the game on TV, were surprised to see the game end so soon.

"I didn’t realize that the game was over," said one fan.

"We were just watching the game, and then we saw that it was over," said another.

The fans, who had been cheering for the Tar Heels, were disappointed that they had left the game too early.

"We were just hoping that the Tar Heels would win," said one fan.

GOD BROUGHT JOY TO OUR EARS WITH SOUND OF MUSIC

For many years, music has been an integral part of our worship experiences. Songs of joy and praise, such as those heard in church services and special occasions, have the power to lift our spirits and touch our hearts. The joyous music fills our souls with the hope and love of our Heavenly Father.

The sound of music can help us feel closer to God and bring us comfort during times of difficulty. It can also inspire us to be more open to the message of Jesus Christ, who is the source of all true joy.

As we sing praises to our Lord, let us remember that His love and grace are always available to us. With faith and belief, we can find joy in the midst of any situation.

Local News

Sunday, February 8, 1999

While many Texas counties are refunding more than $4 million to drivers who received traffic citations in 1997, Panola County officials have decided not to participate.

Panola County Sheriff Joe Black said that the county did not receive any refund requests from drivers who overpaid their citations.

"We don't want to do anything to help someone who is wrong," Black said. "If a driver overpays a citation, they should go to the court and get a refund."

Specialists in from Wisconsin

City’s sewer system checked out

By Joel Mower
Wisconsin sewer specialists spent two days in Carthage, inspecting the city’s sewer system. The inspection, which included the city’s treatment plant, was part of a continuing program designed to help communities improve their sewage treatment systems.

The specialists, including a team from the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, visited Carthage on Tuesday and Wednesday. The inspection included a review of the city’s sewer system, including the treatment plant, and a discussion with city officials about the city’s plans for future improvements.

The inspection was part of the state’s ongoing program to help communities improve their sewage treatment systems. The program includes an inspection of each community’s sewage system, followed by a report on any needed improvements.

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources is responsible for ensuring that sewage treatment systems meet state and federal standards. The department provides technical assistance to communities to help them improve their systems and meet those standards.

The inspection is expected to take several weeks to complete. The city is currently working on plans for improvements to the treatment plant, which will be reviewed as part of the inspection.

Local officials seek legislation

Hospital resolution to tap homesteads gains nod

By Joel Mower

A resolution that calls for tapping homesteads to help fund hospital operations was approved by the Panola County Commissioners Court on Tuesday.

The resolution, which was sponsored by Commissioner John H. Smith, will allow the county to use homesteads to fund hospital operations. The homesteads can be used to pay for a variety of expenses, including salaries and equipment.

The resolution was approved by the commissioners during their regular meeting. The resolution will go into effect immediately, and the county will begin using the homesteads to fund hospital operations.

County to review new jail plans

By Joel Mower

The Panola County Commissioners Court will review new jail plans during its regular meeting on Tuesday.

The court will have the opportunity to review new jail plans during its regular meeting on Tuesday. The plans were presented to the court earlier this week, and the court will have the opportunity to provide feedback and make any necessary changes.

The new jail plans were developed in response to an increase in inmate population in the Panola County Jail. The new jail plans include an expansion of the existing facility and the construction of a new facility.

Farm economy experiences major changes

By Joel Mower

The farm economy in Panola County is experiencing major changes. The county’s agricultural economy has been declining for several years, and the effects of the decline are being felt throughout the county.

The following is the second in a series of articles examining the effects of the decline on the county:

1. The average farm value is down 15%.
2. The average farm income is down 25%.
3. The average farm value per acre is down 10%.
4. The average farm income per acre is down 20%.

However, the county’s economic situation is not as bad as it appears. The county’s economic decline is due to a variety of factors, including a decline in commodity prices and a decline in the number of farmers in the county.
