Firemen pull man from city water tower

Through the heroic efforts of two Carthage Volunteer Firemen, an observer of an alert Carthage Police Officer, a potential tragedy was averted in the Carthage Volunteer Firemen.

While on routine patrol, police officer Art Ray received a call from a 23-year-old Charlie Wayne Walker who observed a water tower situated in the lot of the old high school.

As the water tower was evaluated for the time being, Mr. Ray responded to the scene.

At the scene, a man was found to be hanging from the water tower.

The man was rescued and taken to the hospital.

Austin highlights
Legislators struggling to cut another $600 million from state budget before Easter

By Richard Schwab
Legislators are struggling to cut another $600 million from the state budget before Easter, but the mood in Austin is not as grim as it was last year, when the legislature was in session for only four months. This year, the legislature is expected to be in session for six months, giving lawmakers more time to address the state's financial problems.

The Office of the Governor, which is responsible for preparing the state budget, estimates that the state will need to cut $600 million from its budget for the fiscal year ending in September. The governor has already signed a bill that will cut $100 million from the state budget.

The legislature is expected to begin discussions on the state budget later this month. Lawmakers will be under pressure to find ways to cut costs, as the state's finances continue to deteriorate. The legislature is expected to consider a variety of options, including cutting programs, increasing taxes, and reducing state spending.

City delays zoning request

As President Calvert said, "The zoning issue has been a long time coming and the decision to delay it is necessary to give the Planning Board more time to consider the developer's proposal."

City officials hope that the developer will submit a revised plan that addresses the concerns of the Planning Board and the city council. The revised plan will likely be considered at the next city council meeting.

Dear Mr. Grissom,

I would like to Thank You for buying my broilers. I am 9 years old. This is my first time to have a 4-H project. I enjoyed growing my chickens and you have made it possible for me to be able to continue in 4-H projects in the future. I plan to put my money from my project in a savings account for my future. I want to be a nurse when I grow up.

Thank you,

TO MY fellow CITTADINES OF CITRAGUE, TEXAS,

In view of a great deal of response from the citizens of Citrague. I wish to take this time to respond to a good local advertisement to avoid confusion and to allay any fears that I might have been misconstrued. I would like to clarify a few points.

First of all, my advertisement was intended to be a call for volunteers to assist with the upcoming town festival. I did not intend to imply that any specific individuals were being targeted or excluded. My language was not intended to cause any offense or create discomfort. I am sorry if my advertisement was misconstrued.

I would like to assure all citizens that I am committed to fostering a sense of community and helping our town thrive. I value the contributions of all residents and hope to continue working together for the betterment of Citrague.

Thank you for your understanding,

Texas Most Wanted

Texan Most Wanted is a list of the most wanted criminals in Texas. It is maintained by the Texas Department of Public Safety. The list includes individuals who have been wanted for crimes such as murder, armed robbery, and other serious offenses. The list is updated regularly, and individuals may be removed from the list as they are arrested or escape. The list is not exhaustive and may not include all individuals who are wanted in Texas. It is important to note that the Texas Most Wanted list is not a replacement for the usual methods of police investigation and arrest. If you have any information about any of the individuals on this list, you should contact your local law enforcement agency.

He is in stable condition.

Weed control in clovers

By Mark C. Cora

Cora Dulce, a professor of agronomy at Texas A&M University, conducted a study on the effects of certain herbicides on clovers in East Texas. The study showed that certain herbicides can reduce the growth of clovers, which is beneficial for reducing competition with other crops. However, it is important to note that weed control in clovers is complex, and the use of herbicides must be carefully controlled to avoid any negative impacts on the environment or human health. It is important to follow the recommended guidelines and use herbicides in a responsible manner.
