Chamber of commerce honors citizens, guests

By Karl Stringfellow
The Panola Chamber of Commerce Monday honored three business owners at its annual banquet for their contributions to the community.

It was the second consecutive year that the Chamber has honored business owners, according to Executive Director Hugh Turner. Turner said the Chamber is looking for ways to recognize other community members, such as teachers and students.

The three honored were Harry Robinson, manager of the Panola County Savings Bank; E. J. Johnson, owner of Johnson's Jewelry; and J. R. Payne, owner of Payne's Furniture.

Robinson has been with the bank for 20 years and has been its manager for the past 10 years. Johnson has been in business for 30 years and is known for his fine jewelry. Payne has been in the furniture business for 25 years and is a well-known figure in the community.

Turner said the Chamber is planning to hold a similar event next year.

Deputy resigns, two suspended; sheriff wants outside investigation

By Karl Stringfellow

Deputy Sheriff James Johnson was suspended without pay Monday after being accused of using excessive force. Two other deputies were also suspended.

Sheriff Buck Roper said he was not aware of the incident until after it occurred. He said he has contacted the state attorney general's office and the FBI to investigate.

Johnson had been accused of throwing a suspect to the ground and using a police baton to strike him. The suspect had been arrested for shoplifting.

Roper said he has suspended Johnson and two other deputies for 30 days without pay. He said he will review their cases when they return.

The sheriff said he is committed to ensuring that his deputies follow the law and use proper force.

Notes reviewed

The sheriff's department has reviewed the notes of the deputy who arrested the suspect. The notes were taken by Deputy Officer John Smith and were reviewed by the sheriff.

The notes state that the deputy used appropriate force when arresting the suspect. However, the sheriff said he is still investigating the incident.

County could lose $1 million

By Karl Stringfellow

The Panola County commissioners have cut the county budget by $1 million. The cuts were made to offset a projected $1.5 million budget deficit.

The budget cuts include reducing the salaries of county employees, cutting out-of-pocket expenses, and reducing the county's purchases of supplies.

Commissioner Bill Johnson said the cuts were necessary to ensure the county's continued operations.

Roper said the cuts will affect all departments of the county, including the sheriff's department.

Football stadium due remodeling

By Karl Stringfellow

The Panola County commissioners have approved a plan to remodel the county's football stadium. The stadium is one of the main attractions in the county and is a popular destination for visitors.

The estimated cost of the project is $5 million. The project will include upgrades to the field, bleachers, and other facilities.

Commissioner Bill Johnson said the project is needed to ensure the stadium's continued use.

The project is expected to be completed within the next year.

Panola Newspapers Ads Get National Recognition

The Panola Newspapers, advertisers for the Panola County Post, have been awarded a National Recognition for their advertising campaign, which featured a series of ads promoting the benefits of using gas for heating and cooking. The campaign, which ran in various local newspapers across the state, was designed to raise awareness about the advantages of natural gas, including its cost-effectiveness and environmental benefits.

The ads featured messages such as: "Save money and energy with a new gas water heater." and "Save money and energy with a new gas water heater."

The campaign was a joint effort between the Panola Newspapers and the Texas Natural Gas Association, which provided financial support and assistance in developing the campaign materials. The ads were designed to be eye-catching and informative, featuring images of people using gas appliances in their homes and businesses.

The campaign was highly successful, with readers expressing interest in learning more about natural gas and its benefits. The Panola Newspapers received positive feedback from advertisers and readers alike, who praised the campaign for its innovative approach and effective messaging.

The National Recognition is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the Panola Newspapers team, who worked tirelessly to create a campaign that would make a positive impact on the community. The award serves as a reminder of the importance of collaboration and innovation in the advertising industry, and the Panola Newspapers is proud to have been a part of this important effort.

PJC falls in finale

By F.B. C. Cuthbertson

Pony basketball players had to face a tough challenge when they took on the Panola County Junior College (PJC) in the finals of the District Basketball Tournament. The game was close throughout, with PJC holding the lead for most of the game. However, the Pony's defense stepped up in the last minute, and they were able to secure a narrow victory. Congratulations to the Pony basketball team for their hard work and dedication.

Trenton Allison is living proof that people can do anything if they set their minds to it. Trenton was diagnosed with a rare form of cancer when he was just a week old. The doctors gave him only a slim chance of survival, but Trenton refused to give up.

Every day, Trenton's mother, Brenda Allison, said, "We never thought we'd see him grow up, but he's here, and he's growing stronger every day." Trenton's fight against cancer has inspired many, and he continues to be a source of hope and inspiration for those around him.

Trenton's story is a testament to the power of determination and the importance of never giving up, no matter how difficult the circumstances may be. His journey is a reminder that with the right attitude and support, anything is possible.
