Old books bear historic signatures

A total agreement between a few members of the Post's staff, the library of the Panola County Library and the Post's reporters, has resulted in the publication of a series of articles on the history of old books. The Post has been able to acquire a number of rare and valuable volumes through the efforts of the library and the Post's reporters.

One of the books contains a letter from a local family, the Cravens, who are known for their historic collection. The letter was written in 1865 and is signed by their ancestor, who served in the Confederate Army.

Another book contains a letter from a local family, the Stevens, who are known for their historic collection. The letter was written in 1870 and is signed by their ancestor, who served in the Union Army.

May change law State eyes deer dogs

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is proposing changes in regulations governing hunting of deer with dogs. Several Texas courts have ruled against hunting deer with dogs, and the 1986 legislature passed a bill to make the law more flexible. During the 1986 session, the Department of Parks and Wildlife asked the legislature to make changes in the regulations for deer hunting with dogs. The Department's petition was granted, and the legislature passed a bill that allows deer hunting with dogs for the first time in Texas history. The new law becomes effective on August 1, 1986.

Sparks group works on discovery patches

On Thursday, Feb. 27, the Sparks Middle School band, under the direction of Sam Brailsford, presented a concert in honor of the Pledge of Allegiance. The group then performed several numbers, including a medley of American songs, while students from the school presented their own renditions.

After the concert, the students went on to other activities, such as a Talent Show on March 1st. The show featured students from all grades, from elementary to high school.

The group also performed a special performance for the school's staff on March 15th. The staff enjoyed the music and was moved by the students' talent.

Mayor and first lady have seen Gary’s fortunes ebb and flow

By JEBERT ANDERSON

It has been said that a community is a mirror of its people, and this is certainly true of Gary. The town’s fortunes have mirrored those of its people for years. Gary has been a place where people have come and gone, but the town itself has always been坚强.

Gary was once a bustling place with a vibrant economy. The town was a hub of activity, with businesses and industries thriving. However, the decline of some of these businesses and the loss of jobs have led to a less robust economy.

The town’s population has also fluctuated over the years. At times, Gary has been a place where people looked for work and a better life. At other times, the town has been a place where people have looked for a way out.

Despite these challenges, Gary has always been a place where people have come together to support one another. From the town’s early days, Gary has been a place where people have worked hard and fought for what they wanted.

Strength for Living

By JERRY BURRUM

Grass is not only a landscape element, it is also a source of food and fiber. Grasses were once considered a waste product, but today they are widely used for their many benefits.

Grasslands provide habitat for many species of animals, including birds, reptiles, and insects. Grasses also serve as a food source for many of these animals, providing them with the nutrients they need to survive.

Grass is also a valuable resource for human use. It is used in the production of many products, including paper, textiles, and food. Grass seeds are also used to produce fuel, and grasses are a source of energy for some renewable energy projects.

Grass is an important part of our environment, and we should do everything we can to protect it. This includes reducing our use of chemicals and fertilizers, and using grasses in ways that are sustainable and environmentally friendly.

Rev. Davis leads people to God

By JEBERT ANDERSON

The First United Methodist Church of Logandale has been a staple in the community for many years. It has been a place where people have come to worship and find comfort in times of need.

The church has played a significant role in the lives of many people, providing them with a sense of community and support.

The church is currently led by Rev. George Davis, who has been a source of inspiration and guidance for many in the community.

Rev. Davis is passionate about his work and is dedicated to helping others find their way to God. He believes that everyone is capable of finding a path to spirituality, and he is committed to helping people along that journey.

St. John’s slates Holy Week services

St. John’s Episcopal Church

St. John’s Episcopal Church of Logandale will be hosting a series of services during Holy Week. The church has been a cornerstone of the community for many years, and it continues to play an important role in the lives of its members.

The church will be offering a variety of services throughout Holy Week, including a Good Friday service, a Holy Saturday service, and a Easter Sunday service.

First Things First

By Tula Biggs

Our social life is quite limited these days, but the church is always an exception. We love visiting with each other and getting our fellowship going. We especially love to catch up on the family news and hear about the latest events in each other’s lives.

During the week, we have a regular meeting of the church council, which is a great opportunity to discuss important issues and make decisions about the church.

On Sundays, we have a morning worship service, which is a great way to start the day. We also have a Wednesday evening service, which is a great way to unwind after a long day at work.

Devotional presented at Willing Workers meeting

By JEBERT ANDERSON

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Hosted a Devotional Meeting in January of 2023. The devotional was led by Elder David A. Bednar, who spoke on the importance of courage in our daily lives.

Elder Bednar encouraged the audience to draw on their faith and the strength of the Holy Ghost to overcome the challenges we face in life.

He said, "Courage is the choice we make to stand strong in the face of adversity. It is the strength that enables us to face our fears and overcome our doubts. It is the force that propels us forward, even when the path is difficult.

Elder Bednar’s message was a powerful reminder of the importance of courage and faith in our lives. It was a touching and inspiring devotional meeting that left a lasting impression on all those who attended.

Lutheran Church goal for Rev. Zank

By JEBERT ANDERSON

Although the Lutheran Church is not a large religious body, it is still an important one. It has a long history of serving the community and providing spiritual guidance to those who seek it.

Rev. Zank is the current leader of the church, and he has set forth a goal for the church to achieve. He wants to see an increase in membership and a stronger sense of community among the members.

Rev. Zank believes that this can be achieved through a variety of means, including increasing outreach efforts, improving the church’s facilities, and providing more opportunities for members to get involved.

He said, "We want to see our church grow and thrive, and we believe that with the right focus and dedication, we can achieve these goals. We are committed to working hard to make this happen, and we invite everyone to join us in this endeavor.

Rev. Zank’s goal is a noble one, and it is one that we can all support. Let us strive to make our church a stronger and more vibrant place for all those who call it their home."
Rosie Society hosts
Dr. Harold Hayden

By Elise Bayes

Rose Hayden and Dr. Harold Hayden

It was the big night before the front of the Route 128 on the Post. In the town of Carthage, all the ladies rose to their feet. In the East Tennessee Rose Society, women's meetings were held at the school and a good time was had by all. The Carthage high school principal, Mr. George Hayden, presided over the event. As the guests arrived, they were greeted by the school's teachers and friends who had come to celebrate with them.

As students were dancing and laughing, the music could be heard. Students' faces lit up as they danced. The annual meeting was held at the school and a good time was had by all. The brightest smile and the warmest greetings came from the high school's faculty and students. We are here today to pay our respects to a man who dedicated himself to the school system. He worked to make the Carthage school a better place for our children, teachers, parents, and friends.
