Morris answers absentee charges

By CHUCK SMITH

The Morris and Chandler families of Hennessey are listed as absentees in the Hennessey #1 School District.

A meeting was held earlier this week to discuss the issue. Morris, a member of the county's Agricultural Council, said that he had been unable to attend the meeting due to his travels. He added that he would make sure to review the charged categories and cooperate with the Florida Department of Education to resolve the issue.

Top Texans disagree on windfall

By STAN WILLIAMS

AUSTIN - Texas officials who work on energy-related policies said Monday that the state's windfall is not as significant as recent prediction have suggested. The officials said that the state's economy is more dependent on oil and gas than wind and that the windfall would not have a significant impact on the state's economy.

The officials also said that the windfall would not have a significant impact on the state's budget, as they have been projecting. They said that the state's economy is more dependent on oil and gas than wind and that the windfall would not have a significant impact on the state's economy.

Game wardens enjoy the game

BY CHANDRA SIEBOLD

Jesse Peca and Willard Brandt, state game wardens, spend the morning of Saturday, June 27, taking an afternoon stroll through the woods near the游行 at a state park. Before and after the time they spent in the woods, they enjoyed the game of their choice.

Jesse Peca, who works out of the Barham, TX office, and Willard Brandt, who works out of the Baytown, TX office, shared their experiences with the public in the game of their choice.

Peca spent his morning hunting deer in the woods near the park. He enjoyed the natural beauty of the woods and the thrill of the chase. After a successful morning, he returned to the office and continued his work.

Brandt, on the other hand, spent his morning fishing at the park. He enjoyed the peacefulness of the park and the serenity of the water. After a successful morning, he returned to the office and continued his work.

Both men were happy with their experiences and enjoyed the game of their choice. They look forward to spending more time in the great outdoors.

Oil, gas news reported

Panola County now has the largest producing zone in the Western Field. It is located in the northwest corner of the county and is producing from depths of 5,600 to 7,000 feet. The field covers an area of 15,000 acres and is expected to yield an annual production of 200,000 barrels of crude oil. The discovery has raised the hopes of local oilmen and has attracted the attention of major oil companies. The field is expected to be in production for at least 20 years. The field is located approximately 25 miles north of Carthage and 15 miles east of Sillet.

While I was away for a month this summer, a number of things happened in Deadwood. The school was closed, the library was open, and the post office was still in operation. The people in Deadwood seemed to be happy and contented. I met a number of new people who were interesting and stimulating. I hope to return soon.

Highway department begins construction

The Texas Department of Highways and Public Provence, formerly the Highway Department, will begin construction on the new county highway system in April. The department is responsible for the maintenance and improvement of county roads and highways throughout the county.

The department has a large fleet of heavy equipment, including graders, loaders, and dump trucks, to help with the construction process. The department also works closely with local municipalities and private property owners to ensure that construction projects do not interfere with existing roads or property rights.
