We deliver a lot more than just NEWSPAPERS

Some publications only think about circulation simply as "numbers." To us, circulation means people! For these very important people, we deliver the local news and keep them informed about all the things that affect their lives and their future.

We provide them with meaningful features. We amuse them and amaze them, we make them laugh and sometimes we make them cry. We make them think and act. We tell them where the best buys can be found through the ads and help them get all kinds of goods and services. We deliver a lot more than just newspapers. We deliver it ALL!

Antioch Cemetery gets state marker

Representations of the state's history are found in the form of these markers at the Antioch Cemetery, grateful news for local historians and cemetery caretakers.

"Although the oldest recorded burial in the cemetery is from 1870, the marker recognition has allowed us to learn more about the cemetery and its history," said Preservation Officer Betty Bowers.

The members of the Antioch Cemetery Historical Commission, which is responsible for the maintenance and preservation of the cemetery, believe that the markers are an important part of preserving the history of the area. "They not only provide information about the individuals buried here, but also give us insight into the social and economic conditions of the time," said Bowers.

The markers are made of durable materials and are designed to withstand the elements. They are placed at the gravesites of notable individuals and groups, as well as those who have contributed to the local community.

"We are grateful to have these markers and know that they will be a valuable resource for future historians," said Bowers.

The Antioch Cemetery is located at 123 Cemetery Road in Antioch and is open to the public during daylight hours. For more information, please contact the Preservation Officer at 555-1234.
