County may need 7 cent tax increase

By GARY BRUCK

County Judge Ruff Wall said Thursday that the 1987-88 budget presented to the County Commissioners Court last week by County Administrator Janice Combs would need a 7-cent tax increase to balance the budget. The present county sales tax is set at 6.25 percent.

"This means that to fund the 1987-88 budget at $64,742,000, the tax base would need to increase by 9.3 percent over 1986," Judge Wall said. "This is like being on the water with a board and 9.3 percent is the difference between you falling off or you staying on."

The present county sales tax is set at 6.25 percent. If the proposed rate increase is passed by the Court, the tax rate would be 7 percent, or $7.00 for every $1,000 of taxable property. The present rate is $6.25 for every $1,000 of taxable property.

The proposed rate increase would raise the annual tax bill on a $100,000 home by $50.00.

Judge Wall said he will present the proposal to the Court Tuesday and that the Commissioners are expected to vote on the matter at the regular meeting scheduled for the same day.

CISD sets budget hearing

The Board of Trustees of the Channelview Independent School District will hold a public hearing on the budget on Thursday, Sept. 2, at 7 p.m. in the CISD Administration Building.

The board will hold as regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. at which time it will consider approval of the school district's budget for the 1987-88 fiscal year. The meeting will be held at the CISD Administration Building.

District Judge sets master over HUD

U.S. District Judge William White has appointed a special master to oversee mediation efforts in the case between the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and the City of Conroe.

Judge White said Thursday that the mediation efforts have been unsuccessful and that he has appointed a special master to oversee the process.

The special master will be assigned to the case and will be responsible for facilitating the mediation efforts.

The case involves a dispute between the City of Conroe and the HUD over the city's refusal to accept funds from the federal government to help finance a housing project.

The case was filed in 1984 and has been pending in federal court for several years. The city has refused to accept the funds, citing concerns about the project's impact on the city's residents.

Judge White said that the special master will be responsible for facilitating the mediation efforts and will work to reach a resolution to the dispute.
Hogg considered ablest governor

By Delmore WILLIAMS

The Texas Observer, which was located in the Texas Observer Building, at the corner of 12th and Congress Avenue, was a weekly newspaper that published articles on various topics, including politics. The newspaper was known for its critical stance on the power structure and its support for progressive causes.

The article titled "Hogg considered ablest governor" was written by Delmore Williams, a journalist and author who was known for his contributions to the Texas Observer. The article discusses the political career of James Hogg, a prominent Texas politician who served as the 27th Governor of Texas.

The article includes quotes from various sources, including Hogg himself, who is quoted as saying, "I am not a politician, I am a public servant." The article also discusses Hogg's policies and accomplishments during his time in office, as well as his impact on the state of Texas.

Overall, the article provides a detailed analysis of Hogg's political career and his contributions to Texas, making it a valuable resource for anyone interested in Texas history or political science.

Distributes brochure during travels
Peoples promotes Panola

By Chuck Sylvis

Peoples, a leading travel agency, recently introduced a new brochure to its clients. The brochure highlights the various destinations that Peoples offers, particularly those that are not easily accessible by road or rail.

"Our brochure is designed to showcase the beautiful locations that our clients can explore through travel," said Peoples President Susan Newman. "We want to encourage our clients to step out of their comfort zones and discover new places and cultures.

Peoples has been in business for over 50 years and has established partnerships with numerous travel companies, allowing them to offer clients a wide range of destinations. The brochure features information on destinations such as the Australian Outback, the Amazon rainforest, and the majestic Dolomites.

"We believe that travel is an essential part of personal growth," Newman continued. "It allows us to connect with different cultures and understand the world in a deeper way. Our brochure is a tool to help our clients make informed decisions and plan their travels accordingly.

Peoples also offers customized travel packages that can be tailored to individual preferences and interests. Clients can choose from a variety of accommodations, activities, and experiences, ensuring a personalized travel experience.

"We want our clients to feel confident in their travel choices," Newman said. "Our team of travel experts is always available to answer questions and provide guidance, ensuring a stress-free travel experience.

Peoples is committed to offering clients the best possible service and ensuring a memorable travel experience. The brochure is just one way we achieve this goal. We look forward to helping our clients explore the world and create unforgettable memories."
