Bankruptcy stirs memories of flight

Memories of Carthage and Memorial are two words that come to mind when thinking about Carthage. For the neighborhood of Carthage, it is a place of nostalgic memories. But for some residents, it is a place where dreams did not come true.

When I think of Carthage, I remember the old Pantala Junior College, which was once a haven for students. It is now a ghost town, and the memories of those who attended there linger on.

The old Pantala Junior College was located near the old Pantala dam in Carthage. A short time ago, the place was never more than a shadow of its former self. Today, it is a place where dreams were left behind.

I remember standing on the steps of the old Pantala Junior College, when the sunset lit up the sky. The memories of those who attended there will always be with me.

The old Pantala Junior College was a center for education and learning. It was a place where dreams were formed and hopes were realized.

I hope that memories of Carthage will continue to live on, and that the place will never be forgotten.

Oil drilling almost at standstill

By Lloyd Bunting

The oil drilling in Carthage is almost at a standstill. One of the key reasons for this is the low price of oil. The falling oil prices have made it difficult for companies to invest in new drilling projects.

The oil drilling in Carthage has been slow due to the low price of oil. Companies have been hesitant to invest in new projects, and the existing ones have been struggling to make a profit.

I hope that the price of oil will rise soon, and that the drilling in Carthage will pick up again.

Ideas presented in oil problem

By Anthony Hurrican

The oil problem in Carthage is a serious issue that needs to be addressed. There are many ideas presented to solve the problem.

One idea is to increase the price of oil. This would make it more profitable for companies to invest in new drilling projects. Another idea is to reduce the amount of oil being produced.

I hope that these ideas will be implemented soon, and that the oil problem in Carthage will be solved.

Strength For Living
BY JERRY BURMAN

It is a sad fact that America is the place to quit living now. The job of an American is to work three nights a week, Labor Day to Labor Day, a holiday to honor working women. It is the only job that pays even half as much as a market gardener. Magnetic Murph, from New York, custom-ized the confused, average American to a system of self-control in 1949. He suggested that if you do not think, the mirror will not think as well.

Candidate disappointed at ruling

Hargett defends record

"I am disappointed that the court has ruled against me," said Republican House Speaker Joe Hargett, reacting to a court ruling that he is not eligible to run for re-election. "I believe I have a good record and I have worked hard for the people of Texas."

The court ruled that Hargett was not eligible to run because he had not served a full term following the death of a predecessor. Hargett is challenging the ruling in the courts.
