The Texas Experience Wheat, cotton, shape economy

Many farmers face depression --- The nation the farmers plan to be shaped from the land to the money they make.

One example is the county of Trinity

The farmers face the same problems as others in the state. The price of cotton has dropped sharply, and the farmers are feeling the pinch. They are trying to save money and cut costs to make ends meet.

The farmers are also affected by the national economy. The price of cotton is affected by the demand for it in the world market. If the demand increases, the price of cotton will rise. If the demand decreases, the price of cotton will fall.

The farmers are also affected by the weather. If the weather is bad, the cotton will not grow well, and the farmers will have a poor crop. This can affect the price of cotton.

The farmers are also affected by the government. The government sets the minimum price of cotton, and if the price falls below this level, the farmers receive a subsidy from the government.

The farmers are also affected by the competition from other countries. If other countries can produce cotton more cheaply, the farmers in Texas will face competition.

Downtown parking a reality

On April 7, the city supported the city commissioners for a plaza parking site. The city owned a piece of land, and a parking site was proposed. The site was designed to remove existing on-street parking, which was causing traffic issues and safety concerns.

A parking garage was proposed, and the city was expected to complete it in the next few years. The project will provide much-needed public parking in the downtown area.

Another business improvement

Leland Kelley has turned a parking lot into an improvement at the building on W. Panola Street. The roof of the building was replaced, and new windows and doors were installed. Kelley decided to construct a garage over the parking area, which is part of the building.

Richland native Richard Anderson will defend the gubernatorial throne he captured two years ago in the 1976 general election in the Nov. 7, 1978, primaries. He faces Democrat John L. Butler in the Democratic primary.

The 57-year-old Anderson was a state senator before he was elected governor in 1976. He is a life-long resident of Richland County and a member of the Republican Party.

Anderson is running on a platform of maintaining the state's economic growth, improving education and health care, and reducing crime.

The Democratic Party has nominated Butler, a 43-year-old lawyer, as its candidate for governor. Butler is from Lexington and is a former state senator.

The two candidates are expected to have a close race, with polls showing Butler leading by a narrow margin.

Both candidates have been active in campaigning throughout the state, with Anderson focusing on issues related to the economy and Butler emphasizing education and health care.

The winner of the primary will face the winner of the Republican primary in the general election on Nov. 7, 1978.

Tidwell field goal brings victory

By TED LEACH

Atlanta was 27 yards out of the lead only to have its momentum fizzle in the second quarter when Carthage took command. Atlanta’s defense was allowing Carthage to score points but the offensive unit was falling short. As a result, Carthage was able to win the game.

Atlanta defenders were in control of the game and they didn’t lose their momentum. Carthage was able to score points despite the pressure.

The defense gave up an 18-yard field goal but it wasn’t enough to bring the score within striking distance. Carthage scored a touchdown in the second quarter to take the lead.

The offense was a key factor in the win. The offense was able to give the defense a break and it scored points to put the game out of reach.

It was an overkill for overton as they took on the Canes and beat them 12-0. The band was3 dominant as they took over the field and played their hearts out. The Jackets were also on fire as they scored two touchdowns and one field goal. The Panthers were not as successful as they had only scored one touchdown. The game ended with the Jackets leaving the field victorious.
