Dogs fall to 0-4 to begin 'new season' 32-18

Daingerfield stops frost, 32-18

Michael Pippin and Jeff Douglas rushed through Barnstable's lackluster defense and into their own end zone for a touchdown. The Tigers had every intention of doing the same thing the rest of the way.

The Tigers would get nothing from the rematch, however, as Daingerfield's defense held them to a 2-yard gain on their first meeting and didn't allow them to score again.

The Tigers would fall to 0-4 on the season, and Daingerfield improved to 3-1.

The Tigers scored first when they took the ball at their own 20-yard line and marched 80 yards on 13 plays. The drive was highlighted by a 32-yard pass from Daingerfield's quarterback to tight end Jason Davis to set up the first touchdown of the game.

The Tigers' defense forced a turnover on the first play of the second quarter, as Daingerfield fumbled the ball at the 20-yard line.

The Tigers scored on the next play, a 2-yard run by Daingerfield's quarterback, to take a 12-0 lead into halftime.

The Tigers added two more touchdowns in the second half, one on a 10-yard run by Daingerfield's quarterback and another on a 2-yard run by Daingerfield's fullback.

The Tigers scored twice in the fourth quarter, both on 3-yard runs by Daingerfield's fullback.

The Tigers finished with 270 yards of offense, compared to Daingerfield's 246.

The Preservation of the Freedom of the Press is Our Mutual Responsibility

We're in this together, you and I.

You, by virtue of the First Amendment, have the right to receive information you need to organize your life and to speak and act intelligently on issues which require public attention.

I by the same virtue, have the right to freely transmit the information on which you base your convictions, words and actions.

I would find displays of indifference on your part as disappointing as you would find me irresponsible if I failed to present differing viewpoints.

You and the law

Do any employers have a right to keep you from speaking where it would serve the public? Let us suppose that you are an editor of a newspaper. You make an arrangement and collect an advance from a manufacturer to publish an article attacking some one of his products. You have the article written and you can do to keep the appointment.

You publish the article. You have a single day. Unless, however, your employer's business is involved in a public controversy, and that controversy must be revealed by your work, the employer will be held by your contract, whether he is a newspaper or a business firm. You will have your work and the world will know that the truth is not for sale.

You have been in the business of public service. You have been the mouthpiece of the public. And you have been forced to make a choice. You have chosen the side that you believe is right.

To this I reply: I choose the truth. Whether you publish it or not. Whether your employer supports it or not. Whether your audience will read it or not. Whether your readers will believe it or not. It's the truth. And the truth is what I am here to defend. And the truth is what you should be striving to defend.

If you please, I rely on you to take your pen in hand and tell me so. Or, come to visit with me if you're so compelled.

My door is open to you. Please keep yours open to me. You need me. I need you. Who am I?

I am your newspaper.

Panola County POST The Panola Watchman

Just Say "Charge It!"

Offer Made for Commercial Real Estate

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my interest in purchasing the former Panola County Hospital property located at 123 Main Street in Carthage. I believe this property would be an excellent location for a new community center. The property is comprised of approximately 5 acres and includes a building that was previously used as a hospital. The building is in need of some renovation, but has the potential to be repurposed for a variety of community uses. I am interested in purchasing the property and would be willing to negotiate a fair price. I can be reached at 123 Main Street, Carthage, or by phone at 123-4567. Thank you for considering this offer.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Oil patch is facing problems

Dear Editor,

The impact of the oil patch on our community is not just economic, but environmental and social as well. The drilling activities have caused significant disruption to the local wildlife and ecosystem. The noise and dust from the drilling rigs have affected the quality of life for many residents. Additionally, the disposal of waste and fluids from the oil industry has raised concerns about water contamination.

We need to find ways to mitigate these negative impacts and ensure that the oil patch continues to contribute to the local economy without harming the environment and community health. Have you heard of the proposed Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulations that aim to reduce the environmental impact of oil and gas operations? We should support these efforts and advocate for stronger regulations to protect our natural resources.

Sincerely,

Does A Caring Family Have Heartburn?

When a family member suffers from heartburn, it can be distressing for everyone involved. Here are some tips to help manage and prevent heartburn in your family:

1. Eat Small Meals: Large meals can put extra strain on the esophagus, leading to heartburn. Try to eat smaller, more frequent meals instead.
2. Avoid Spicy Foods: Spicy foods can irritate the esophagus, causing heartburn. Stick to milder options like grilled chicken or fish.
3. Limit Acid Foods: Foods high in acidity, such as citrus fruits and tomatoes, can exacerbate heartburn. Opt for gentler options like apples or bananas.
4. Stay Hydrated: Drinking plenty of water helps keep the esophagus lubricated, reducing heartburn.
5. Exercise Regularly: Regular physical activity can help strengthen the muscles of the esophagus, reducing the likelihood of heartburn.
