Texas war drew Texas heroes

Texas was surrounded on its west and north, and heavily fortified on its east, as the Army made its way across Texas. The Army Air Corps, under the command of Maj. General H. H. Scott, was responsible for the air defense of the state. Scott's men, the Texas Air Force, included pilots from San Antonio, Austin, Dallas, and Houston. They were equipped with modern aircraft, including B-17s and B-29s.

The Texas National Guard was also active during the war, with units from across the state. The Guard was responsible for providing security and support for the war effort.

The Texas legislature, under the leadership of Governor William P. Hobby, passed numerous bills to support the war effort. These included providing funds for the construction of new military bases, as well as increasing the state's military budget.

The war was not just fought on the fronts, however. At home, the people of Texas were also affected. Many families lost loved ones in the war, and the state's economy was transformed by the demands of the war effort.

Despite the challenges, Texas rose to the occasion, and its people played a vital role in the war effort. The state's contributions were recognized, and Texas was honored for its service.

Harvest festival held

By Mrs. Davey Woods

The annual Harvest Festival celebrated at the Horns Church Community Center on Saturday, October 16, was a resounding success. The festival, which included a harvest fair, a parade, and various community gatherings, was organized to celebrate the community's agricultural heritage and raise funds for local charities.

Mary Fox, a long-time member of the community, related that the festival had started as a small gathering of neighbors sharing their crops and foods. Over time, it had grown into a major event, attracting visitors from all over the county.

The highlight of the festival was the parade, which featured floats from local businesses and organizations, as well as floats from neighboring towns. The floats were beautifully decorated, with many featuring harvest-themed elements like corn stalks, pumpkins, and bountiful baskets of fruit and vegetables.

AIDS Walk

By Mr. Davey Woods

The AIDS Walk, which took place on Sunday, October 17, was a major fundraising event for AIDS-related charities. Participants walked or ran a 5K course through the county, raising awareness about the disease and its impact on the community. Participants were encouraged to wear their best costumes, adding a festive touch to the event.

Local artist, Mrs. Jane Williams, was the organizer of the walk. She stated, "It's important for us to come together and support those affected by AIDS. The funds raised will help provide essential services to those in need."}

Carthage, Texas

Copyright 1996 by Panola Newspapers

By Mr. Davey Woods

The game against the Tribe was a major upset, with the Carthage Bulldogs pulling off a stunning 24-21 victory. The team's performance was especially impressive given that they were playing against a team that was ranked higher in the league.

"The players really came together as a team," said Coach Mike Thompson. "They showed a lot of heart and never gave up, even when the going got tough." The win helped keep the Bulldogs' hopes alive for a playoff spot.

Gary taxes increase

A new law is on the books in Carthage that will increase the local property tax rate. The rate, which was set at 80% last year, has now been increased to 90%, a move that will raise the cost of living for residents.

Families of the fallen

In a moving ceremony, flags were raised at the Carthage Community Center in honor of those who lost their lives in the line of duty. The families of the fallen were present, paying tribute to their loved ones and acknowledging the sacrifices they made.

Fourth birthday

Today is a special day for the Woods family, as they celebrate the fourth birthday of their daughter, Sarah. The family is throwing a small party for Sarah, who was born on October 15.

"It's a special day for us," said Mrs. Jane Williams, "Sarah is a joy to have in our lives, and we're looking forward to celebrating her special day with her friends and family."

CHILDREN ADOPT “EVIL” ON HALLOWEEN BUT WE MUST DISCARD IT

_The Jack-o-lantern’s eerie grin will signal its children to beg, The time to let the fun begin. Lique the spookily children’s fright, So go and turn your porch light on, For devil’s are coming across the lake, And hub the open door“The Devil”. If this reminds of your youth And how you changed the switch at night, It’s time for you to face the truth, So both can help you meet it. As members of the human race, Let’s break each other’s strength. Because it has no right place, Except with kids on Halloween._

Halloween customs have ancient roots

By DOROTHY NELLE
The origins of Halloween, a holiday celebrating the end of the harvest season and the first day of winter, are shrouded in mystery and legend.

The name "Halloween" comes from the Old English words "geafolmenn," meaning "the end of the harvest." It was a time when people believed that the souls of the dead would come back to earth and roam the countryside. To keep the ghosts away, families would light bonfires and leave food for the spirits.

In Celtic times, Halloween was celebrated as the Festival of Samhain, a time when the barrier between the worlds of the living and the dead was believed to be weakest. This is why people would dress in costume and make offerings to the spirits).

Halloween is a complex holiday with many traditions and superstitions. Some of the most common include carving pumpkins, dressing up in costumes, and eating candy.

City approves police rules

A 24-page document setting out new guidelines for police conduct was presented to the City Commission by Chief of Police Charles Young.

The guidelines, which are the result of a six-month study, cover areas such as crime prevention, community relations, and use of force.

The commission will receive public comments on the guidelines before voting on them in November.

Snoops will growl! Friday

Dogs and puppies of every size and shape will be out frisking tonight for the year's biggest bonfire.

A number of events have been planned to keep spectators entertained.

Voters to decide four amendments

In addition to choosing candidates for various local offices, voters will be asked to decide on four proposed amendments to the city charter.

Amendment No. 1 would allow the city to issue bonds to finance certain public projects.

Amendment No. 2 would prohibit the city from borrowing money to finance any project without bond authorization.

Amendment No. 3 would require the city to have a comprehensive plan for the development of the city's water resources.

Amendment No. 4 would increase the city's property tax rate.

Delivery center

The new delivery center will be open on Friday, starting at 7:30 a.m.

The center will include a drive-up window, a branch at the post office, and a mail-handling facility.

Free concert

County Fire Hall Haunted House and Free Live Concert/Friday 7:30 p.m. Haunted House is a regular stop on the Great Dixie Tour from St. Augustine to Jacksonville. Maps available at the HD Post Office. Free concerts on Halloween are being held in the community.

Holiday Happening kicks off

Holiday baking kicks off

Holiday baking is a fun way to enjoy the holiday season. Many people enjoy baking cookies, cakes, and other treats during this time of year.

If you love to bake, consider making some of these festive baked goods:

- Pumpkin pie
- Gingerbread cookies
- Pecan tarts

These treats are not only delicious, but they also bring a bit of festive cheer to your holiday table.

For more baking recipes, check out our website or visit your local bookstore for cookbooks dedicated to the holiday season.
