At season's end

Dog frosh exciting

Carthage freshmen did not get as much of a whirlwind during the season, in fact, in the end they gained more and more experience, and they will be key players on next year's team. The Frosh started off by sweeping through the regular season with a 7-2 record. They then made their way to the playoffs, where they defeated Van Buren in the quarterfinals and went on to win the State Championship. Although they did not win as many games as the Frosh, they were a strong team and played well against Carthage. They lost 3-2 against Carthage in the quarterfinals, but their season was not in vain. They got a lot of experience and played well against Carthage. They lost 3-2 against Carthage in the quarterfinals, but their season was not in vain. JVs to long remember finale

When the Carthage junior varsity football team defeated McAlester 19-7, it was a sweet victory for some of the players. It was also a sweet victory for the entire team. The JVs were able to come out on top and bring home the win.

The game was a close one, with both teams putting up a good fight. The JVs were able to hold off the McAlester team and secure the victory. The team was excited and happy to have won.

The victory over McAlester in late October was a sweet one for the JVs. The team is now headed towards the playoffs and will be looking to extend their winning streak. The team has been working hard and will continue to do so to get ready for the playoffs.

The Gillards said they plan to serve lunch and dinner daily.

Texas Tea Room will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Italian grandmother taught Debi Studebaker well

By Dorothy Tuttle

For a New York girl who grew up in the sixties of Debi supermarket, the shopping在家里 eating is a way of life. She grew up in a time when women were expected to be in the kitchen. She learned to cook from her grandmother, who had been a chef in Italy.

Debi's grandmother was a chef in Italy, and she passed down her recipes to Debi. Debi learned to cook by watching her grandmother in the kitchen.

Debi has been teaching cooking classes for the past few years, and she has written a cookbook about her grandmother's recipes.

Debi's grandmother's recipes are simple and delicious. She taught Debi how to make pasta from scratch, how to make tiramisu, and how to make risotto.

Debi's grandmother's kitchen was a place of love and warmth. She would sit with Debi, teaching her how to prepare food, and she would tell her stories of Italy.

Debi said that her grandmother taught her to be patient and to enjoy the process of cooking. She said that cooking is a way of connecting with others and with the world around us.

Debi's grandmother's recipes are a celebration of Italian culture and of the love and warmth that her grandmother brought to the kitchen. She said that she wants to share her grandmother's recipes with the world, so that others can learn to cook and to enjoy the process of making food.

Debi is passionate about cooking and about sharing her grandmother's recipes. She said that she hopes that others will find joy in cooking and in the kitchen, just as she did with her grandmother.

Debi's grandmother's recipes are a way of connecting with the past and with the world around us. She said that cooking is a way of celebrating life and of sharing love and warmth with others.
Zoe's Recipe Box

Zoe says Cornish hens with wild rice are special!

By Alyson Driscoll

It is really not hard to imagine some of the foods we did not have. Kids, box or out of season. But our grandparents' food was mostly in season, from their gardens or their farms. They often worked for any length of time to make sure their food was seasonable. But now, most of us are lucky enough to get the same foods in any season.

Recently started the Fat Walker program and I cannot wait to share this recipe for this approach to a healthy lifestyle. This program was designed for people all over the country, both in rural and urban areas. But for those of us who live on farms or in small towns, it can be a bit challenging to get a variety of healthy foods. So, I'm going to share one of my favorite recipes from the program: Cornish hens with wild rice.

Food drive a success

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanson worked on Mrs. Swanson's farm in North Dakota and they grew a variety of vegetables and fruits. They decided to start a garden club to share their produce with others in their community. They invited friends and neighbors to join them. The garden club was very successful and they were able to share their produce with many people.

Patricia Yarbrough, the mayor of Longview, has been appointed as the new president of the Panola College Foundation. Yarbrough, who has served on the college’s board of trustees for the past 15 years, will assume her new role on January 1.

Yarbrough is well known for her dedication to education and has been a strong advocate for the college’s growth and development.

Musician exchanged saxophone for college presidency

Patricia Yarbrough, the mayor of Longview, has been appointed as the new president of the Panola College Foundation. Yarbrough, who has served on the college’s board of trustees for the past 15 years, will assume her new role on January 1.

Yarbrough is well known for her dedication to education and has been a strong advocate for the college’s growth and development.

What has been the biggest challenge in your new role as president?

Yarbrough: "The biggest challenge will be ensuring that Panola College remains a leader in education and community involvement. It’s important that we continue to offer programs that are relevant to our students and the needs of the community."

What is your vision for Panola College moving forward?

Yarbrough: "My vision for Panola College is to continue to provide high-quality education and training opportunities that are accessible to all residents in Panola County. I want to ensure that Panola College is a place where students can achieve their goals and reach their full potential."

What advice would you give to someone interested in pursuing a career in education?

Yarbrough: "My advice to anyone interested in pursuing a career in education is to never give up on your dreams. The field of education can be challenging, but it is also incredibly rewarding. I encourage anyone to pursue their passion and make a difference in the lives of others."
