Pana County has lowest unemployment in NE Texas
Although many people might think of Northeast Texas as a place where the economy is in a state of decline, this is not necessarily true. In fact, Panola County has the lowest unemployment rate in the Northeast Texas area. This is due in part to the strong manufacturing sector in the area. The manufacturing sector is responsible for a significant portion of the local economy and has helped to create jobs for residents. Additionally, the area has a low cost of living, which can make it an attractive place to live for those looking to start a business.

1621 Thanksgiving not quite gourmet
Thanksgiving dinners, like any other special meals, can sometimes be a bit of a hassle to prepare. But this year, we decided to keep it simple and stick with a classic menu. We started with a turkey, roasted to perfection, and served with all the traditional sides. For dessert, we had pies – apple and pumpkin – and a big bowl of whipped cream. It was a delicious meal, and we all enjoyed it.

Christmas parade planned Monday
This year's Christmas parade in downtown Dallas will feature a variety of floats and performances. The parade will begin at 11:00 AM, with floats and performers lining up on Pearl Street. The parade will continue down Pearl Street and end at Main Street. The parade will feature floats from local businesses, high school marching bands, and special guests. The parade is free and open to the public, and is a great way to get into the holiday spirit. So come out and join in the fun!

Don't blame the retailer

Now that we're into the Christmas season until Christmas, we can expect that the voice will sound like a red light at the seminar's conclusion. We're happy to report that the Boulevard has been a hot topic in recent weeks. Of the 128,000 shoes recently examined, 6,000 were identified as shoes that were not modified as intended. This number is down from the 10,000 identified last year, and it's hoped that the number will continue to decrease as retailers improve their quality control measures.

The Boulevard has been a hot topic in recent weeks, with many consumers expressing concern over the quality of the shoes they've purchased. While it's unclear what caused this decline, it's possible that retailers are taking steps to address these issues. We encourage consumers to exercise caution when shopping for shoes, and to read reviews and seek recommendations from trusted sources.

Wall Street error nets big bucks

The recent error in the Wall Street Journal's reporting has raised concerns about the credibility of financial news outlets. The error, which involved a significant overstatement of earnings, has led to a backlash from investors and regulators.

In order to help us ensure our news is to the best advantage, please recall that in the past, we often found ourselves in a bind. But now, having a team of experts, a break down of the event, any changes of bias involved, and a final decision. Our reporters can tell you the full story of this error.

Acorn poisoning warned

By Mark C. Curry

County Veterinarian

The county veterinarian has warned of the dangers of acorn poisoning in pets and livestock. Acorns contain cyanide, which can be harmful to animals if ingested. The veterinarian recommends that pet owners keep a close eye on their animals and that livestock farmers be aware of the risk. Acorn poisoning can be prevented by removing acorns from the area and keeping animals away from them. The veterinarian also encourages pet owners to seek veterinary advice if their pet has ingested an acorn.

Marine tells of hatreds, confusion in Middle East

By Dorothy Squires

Col. Joseph L. Bishara, who heads the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon, is on a mission to convince the world that the enemy is the Israeli army, not the people of Lebanon. He says that the Israeli army is responsible for thousands of deaths and injuries in Lebanon. He also says that the United Nations has failed in its mandate to bring about peace in the region. Bishara believes that the United Nations must take a more active role in peacekeeping efforts.

By Bryan Whitcomb, USMC

He was there, eyewitness to the carnage. Bryan Whitcomb, a Marine Corps officer, was in Beirut when the explosion occurred. He says that he was on the rooftop of a building when the explosion hit. He describes the scene as chaotic and confusing. He says that there was a lot of debris and smoke, and that people were screaming and crying.

The Marines were able to help evacuate some of the wounded, but many were left behind. Whitcomb says that he felt helpless and frustrated. He adds that the United Nations did not do enough to prevent the explosion.

Watch For The big Yellow Barrel
Our Thanksgiving acres from a harvest fought hard by the Pilgrims, so give thanks for God’s bounty.

They loved their Indian friends who spread, 90 years, carrying free deer. The food was welcome, the food last for three days. That sense of sharing and of giving, continues to this day. It is called Thanksgiving.

We remember the courage, bravery and determination of our forefathers who settled on the backland coast of the Atlantic and pushed across the new country, regardless of dangers. We have our own day of Thanksgiving.

We have been blessed far beyond any dreams our forefathers may have had. Finals, Thanksgiving Day, an expression of an ultimate dimension - this joy of thanks to the God that we always has our back.
