Selective Service registration important

The Selective Service system has been designed to reach 20 million men in 1967. For the details, see your local draft board. Beginning on Jan. 1, 1967, men who were born before May 1947 would be required to register for the Selective Service, and men born after that date will be required to register in time for conscription. The age of 21 for men was increased to 23 so that the draft board can more closely select those who are needed for military service. Men who are 20 years old or older by Jan. 1, 1967, and men who have been selected for the draft will be required to register. If a man is ever drafted, he will then be sent a notice giving him a chance to register. Men who are 21 years old or older and who have not registered will be required to register. New ambulance begins service

By Dave Hamers

A new ambulance service is getting ready to begin operations in Panola County, but the first round of service is already underway for free under a program that provides an ambulance service for free to eligible, low-income families.

The new service, which is being offered through the Panola County Health Department, is expected to begin operations in the next few weeks. The program is made possible through a grant from the Texas Department of Health and will provide free ambulance service to eligible individuals and families who live in Panola County and meet certain income guidelines.

The program will provide transport for eligible individuals and families to medical facilities throughout the county, including hospitals, clinics, and emergency rooms. The service will operate 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and will be available to anyone who meets the income eligibility criteria.

For more information about the program, contact the Panola County Health Department at 214-693-7888.
