$1.5 million CISD plan proposed

By Gerald O'Hanley

Leyland Cookie presented Carthage Independent School District board members with a $1.5 million bond proposal that would provide cash for the construction of a new high school, a new elementary school and $1 million for transportation facilities. The bond proposal is being presented as a result of a survey conducted by the CISD. The results of the survey indicated that the CISD needed a new high school, an elementary school and transportation improvements.

The CISD board members are scheduled to meet on January 30 to consider the proposal. If the proposal is approved, the CISD will issue $1.5 million in bonds to finance the construction of the new schools and transportation facilities. The new high school will be located on the current Carthage High School site and will be designed to accommodate the increasing student population. The new elementary school will be located on the current Carthage Elementary School site and will be designed to accommodate the increasing student population. The transportation improvements will include the construction of a new bus garage and the purchase of new buses.

Judge offers service; how about the smile?

By Dorothy Nocle

In the southern Ellis County, Judge Crawford Parker is a busy man. He has a lot of cases to handle and a lot of work to do. The judge is known for his kindness and his sense of humor. He often adds a smile to his work. When asked about his idea of a smile, the judge said, "A smile is a way of showing how happy you are. It's a way of saying, 'I'm glad you're here.'"

Shelby County objects to court expansion proposal

Shelby County objects to the court expansion proposal put forth by the Ellis County Commissioners. According to the county attorney, the proposal would result in the construction of a new courthouse and the enlargement of the existing one. Shelby County objects to the proposal because it would result in an increase in property taxes.

Noisy neighbor moves in

Will it be blessing or curse?

By Gail Winkle

The new neighbor in town is making quite a noise. The neighbors are concerned about the noise and are looking for a way to resolve the issue. The new neighbor is a musician who plays the piano and the guitar. The neighbors say that the noise is too loud and is disturbing their sleep.

20 offices to be elected

On April 6, county voters will be electing 20 county officials, including the county judge, the district attorney, the sheriff, the county attorney, and the county commissioner. The elections will be held at the county courthouse. The county judge is the highest elected official in the county and is responsible for the administration of the county.

Citizen nominations sought

Written nominations for Citizen of the Year will be accepted by the Panola County Board of Commissioners until April 1. The annual award will be presented to a deserving Panola County resident during the annual meeting of the Panola County Historical Society on April 11. The nomination must be in writing and include the name of the person being nominated, a brief biographical sketch, and a statement of why the person is being nominated. The nominations must be received by the county clerk by April 1.

First to file in city election

City Commissioner Sloan Brown is the first to file for re-election in the April 4 election. On the city council, two seats are up for election, and Brown is the only candidate to have filed for the seat.

Jimerson seeks county reaction to mausoleum

By Tom Kirby

MZOOK, a private company with a plant in Panola County, has been operating a mausoleum in the county for several years. The company has been offering a variety of services, including the construction of mausoleums and the sale of burial plots.

The company's owner, Mr. Jimerson, believes that the county should be more involved in the mausoleum business. He says that the county could benefit from the revenue generated by the sale of burial plots and the construction of mausoleums.

The county has yet to respond to Jimerson's request. The county's decision could have a significant impact on the future of the mausoleum business in Panola County.

Renewing memories of 1987

Some of the 1987 graduates of Cargill High School renewed old acquaintances after a reunion. A group of Panola County High School graduates from the class of 1987 met at the Panola County Hot Dog Stand to reminisce about their high school days.

The group included former classmates and friends who had not seen each other in many years. They shared stories about their high school days and caught up on each other's lives.

The reunion was a great success and the group plans to meet again in the future.

Just whistling while you look for work?

Now comes a gentleman whose credentials in the field of economics might be described as a "Dixie" economist. This gentleman, whose name is J. B. Paracous, spoke before the Chamber of Commerce last week in Dallas, Texas, and we can expect economic recovery to begin any minute.

However, for anyone still in doubt about the Great Depression to believe that the federal government has been able to help the country out of it, J. B. Paracous has the answer. "In the first place," he said, "the government did not have the money to spend."

The hard fact is that more than 4,000,000 corporate bankruptcies took place in 1933 alone. In 1933, through the third quarter of 1934, 2,000,000 firms went out of business. Firms of all sizes, large, small, old, and new, were failing by the thousands. The business that has been left behind is a burden on the nation's economy.

In his speech, J. B. Paracous made a plea for the government to take action to prevent this economic disaster. He pointed out that the government has the power to print money and that this money could be used to support the nation's industries.

This airplane is bound to crash

By Jim Mfation

The current trend in airplane design is for ever more complex and high-tech planes. The result is that the pilots are no longer able to control the plane as well as they used to. This is especially true of the newer, more advanced planes.

The problem is that the pilots are not being trained properly. They are being given too much information too quickly. This is causing them to make mistakes, leading to crashes.

U.S. oil production estimated to decline

By J. R. Doodles

The U.S. oil production is estimated to decline by 10% in the next year. This is due to the price war between OPEC and the U.S. Gulf Coast producers. The price war has caused the Gulf Coast producers to cut back production in an attempt to drive the price down.

Bulldogs steal victory

JACKSONVILLE — The Carthage Bulldogs are a victory away from making the playoffs. After Friday night's 27-21 victory over the Jacksonville Cardinals, the Bulldogs are one win away from securing a playoff berth.

The game started slowly, with neither team able to get a foothold. Penalties and turnovers kept the score low, but the Bulldogs' defense held tough, allowing only one touchdown in the first half.

In the second half, Carthage's offense came alive, scoring three touchdowns in the final 18 minutes. The Bulldogs' defense also stepped up, forcing two turnovers that led to touchdowns.

"It was a tough game, but we fought through it," said Carthage head coach John Smith. "Our kids went out there and executed the game plan."

The victory moves the Bulldogs to 6-2 for the season, and they will look to continue their winning ways in their next game.

CHS jv's win 20th

JACKSONVILLE — The Carthage Junior Varsity football team continued their winning streak on Friday night, beating the Jacksonville Cardinals 34-7.

The game started off tightly, with both teams holding their own. However, Carthage's offense exploded in the second half, scoring three touchdowns to put the game out of reach. The Bulldogs defense also played a key role, holding the Cardinals to just one touchdown.

"The kids played great," said Carthage head coach John Smith. "They came out and executed our game plan.

The win moves Carthage to 20-0 for the season, and they will look to continue their winning ways in their next game.

Carthage couple crusades for Marriage Day

Cartha Geister lives in Carthage, Texas, and is a member of the Deaconess Society, a women's organization in the Baptist Church. She is also a member of the United Methodist Church in Carthage.

By Dorothy Walev

World Marriage Day is a special day set aside to observe the importance of marriage and family life. The day is observed in many countries around the world to raise awareness about the value of marriage and its role in society.

The observance is celebrated by various organizations, including the United Nations, the World Council of Churches, and the International Congress of Christian Missionaries.

World Marriage Day is observed on February 7th of each year. The day is marked by various events, including prayers, speeches, and ceremonies, to promote the importance of marriage and family life.

World Marriage Day is a time to reflect on the role of marriage in our society and to celebrate the strengths and contributions of married couples. The day is also a time to remember the importance of love, commitment, and mutual respect in maintaining a healthy and successful marriage.

The observance is an opportunity for individuals and couples to come together to discuss the importance of marriage and to support one another in their relationships.

World Marriage Day is a time to acknowledge the contributions of married couples and to encourage others to consider the value of marriage in their own lives.
